One team of mules brought $544; one team $360 and another $360; corn brought $9.00 a barrel at the crib and hay brought $30 a hundred pounds; hogs sold high, while the milk cows brought from $100 to $125 a head. Farming implements sold much higher than they were bought for two years ago.

Dies From Fall.

James L. Smith who with his family moved to Hamilton, Ohio, about eight years ago, received fatal injuries by falling from a ladder while painting in that city Tuesday afternoon February 18th, and died the next day after being taken to the hospital.

Mr. Smith is well remembered here, being a sexton of the Methodist church for a number of years and was considered a fine painter. He leaves a wife and five children. He was a devout member of Franklin Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city, which order officiated at his funeral in Hamilton, Ohio, where he was buried.

Where SoldiersAnd Sailors May Apply For Bonus.

Many requests have been received by The Courier-Journal for the address of the proper person to apply to for the $60 bonus voted all soldiers and sailors by Congress. Camp Zachary Taylor authorities have furnished The Courier-Journal with this name and address:

"Zone Financier Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C."

Washington, March 8th (by A. P.)

Payment to discharged soldiers of the $60 bonuses authorized by the last Congress is being delayed by failure of the soldiers to comply with the requirements of the law. War Department disbursing officials announced today that thousands of soldiers had sent "true copies" of their discharge papers and that payment of the bonuses would be delayed until the original copies are sent. In cases where the original certificates have been lost, it was stated, the original order for discharge must be submitted.

CIRCUIT COURT Convened last Monday. Many Cases Disposed Of.

The regular term of the March Circuit court convened last Monday with Judge Hardin on the bench and Commonwealth Attorney G. C. Walker looking after the state and county interests.

Little time was lost in selecting the grand jury and the charge to this body by Judge Hardin was brief and very strong, especial attention being called to the new dog law and impressing upon them their duties to see that the law was properly enforced. He told them that it was not only the duty of the dog owners to have their dogs licensed and tagged, but it was also their duty to have these dogs tied or fastened up at night, a violation of which was a heavy fine to the owner. Judge Hardin told them that it had been proven, "beyond a reasonable doubt" that the main reason the farmers had quit raising sheep, was on account of the heavy loss being inflicted by the worthless curs of the country. He spoke of 6,000 letters having been sent to that many farmers of the state asking their reason for not raising sheep, and the reply from all but fifteen, had said it was on account of the dogs.

The grand jury has only set one day and adjourned until this morning. No indictments have been turned in up to this time.

The following cases have been disposed of since convening of the court: Commonwealth vs. Arch Houtright charged with malicious shooting, fined $100 and costs, same to be worked out if not paid; Same against Dan Tankersley, for creating a nuisance, fined $25 and costs; same vs. Abe Hall, charged with carrying concealed a deadly weapon, resulted in a hung jury; same vs. Henry Teister, assault and battery, a fine of $250 and costs resulted; same vs. Riley Davis charged with false swearing, filed with leave to re-estate.

The following cases were dismissed by the commonwealth, Wm. Wren, Abe Knuckles, Hump Osborne, Frank Hopkins, Less Gaffney, Wesley McGreary, Dillard Littrell, Jess White.

The cases of Mount vs. R. L. Rose, V. A. Lear vs. J. T. Davis, and Wm. Lane vs. W. E. Whittaker are set for today. S. N. Isen vs. Clarence Ruble etc, Drew Peters vs. Grant Hammonds, and Millard Peters vs. Grant Hammonds are set for Friday. Spears and Sen vs. A. P. Sloan is set for Saturday. In the Point Lick flood case, Catherine Ely vs. L. and N. Railroad is set for next Tuesday March 18th.

One case that is attracting much interest is Lilly Conn Dishon Adm'r. vs. T. E. Dishon Adm'r, in a damage suit for $25,000, resulting in the killing of Mrs. Dishon by her husband and the suicide of the latter last summer. Arguments on demurrer before Judge Hardin were heard yesterday. The defendant in this case is represented by Hon. Kendrick Alcorn of Stanford and J. E. Robinson, while the plaintiff is represented by Hon. Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset and Judge L. L. Walker.

The committee named by the directors to locate a site for the Garrard Tobacco Warehouse closed a contract this morning with parties on Campbell street in the Middleboro section of the city facing on Totten avenue. The site selected is an ideal one, being on the L. and N. Railroad, which is an important item, as the prizeing houses necessarily should be so located.

The building is to be an immense structure and the plans now are that it will probably be a twin building with a floor space of 150x100 feet, with driveways on either side and two through the center. The building will face Totten avenue, the center of the structure on the McRoberts lot, the building extending North and South from this point. The front will be of attractive design, of brick, with steel girders and the whole building will be the most modern of its type in the state, with the prizeing houses located in the rear and in closed conjunction to the railroad.

INSTANTLY KILLED In Auto Wreck Near Marksburg. H. Clay Rupley, of Stanford The Victim.

Last night about eight o'clock, H. Clay Rupley, of Stanford, was instantly killed in an auto wreck on the Lexington pike, near the Fork Church five miles from Lancaster and Dave Kennedy, also of Lincoln was seriously injured, while Lee Rupley, a brother of the dead man escaped with slight wounds.

The three were returning from Lexington in a Ford runabout, Kennedy was driving and Lee was sitting in the lap of his brother Clay, when the car turned turtle at what is known as the "Bout Lane" just in front of the Fork church, the car going down an embankment about five feet high, throwing Lee clear out of the machine, while Kennedy and Clay were pinned underneath. Lee Rupley was powerless to give the unfortunate victims any aid, being unable to lift the machine, but drawing his pistol, fired it several times in the air to attract the neighbors who lived quite near. Mr. Les Clark who heard the noise of the wreck hurried to their aid, at which time Dr. William Johnson, of this city came up and they lifted the machine from the victims. It was soon found that Clay Rupley had been instantly killed, his neck having been broken and his chest crushed in. Kennedy was found to have had a broken jaw and other painful injuries about the face and head. He was placed in the car with Dr. Johnson and brought to the office of Dr. J. M. Aetion where he now is, but not in a serious condition.

Undertaker J. L. Beazley, was summoned from Stanford and took the remains of the unfortunate victim to his home in Stanford. The deceased was 34 years old and a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rupley of that city.

Coroner S. H. Anderson was on the scene in a few minutes after the accident and an inquest was held, the verdict being in accordance with the above facts.

AMERICANS Have Millions in Claims

The thousands of claims filed by American citizens and concerns against Germany and Austria-Hungary total about $750,000,000, it was announced recently by the State Department, at Washington, which has had a large force working for months claims are divided into two classes, those arising from submarine atrocities and those due to other acts of the compelling the American losses. The Central Empires. The former include losses for death or injury to American citizens, destruction or damage to American vessels and cargoes, as well as American cargoes in foreign bottoms and the loss of valuable personal property other than cargoes.

Losses due to other acts include the destruction and requisition of American property in enemy territory occupied by the enemy at various times, are estimated to amount to $360,000,000.

$1,625For Armenian And Syrian Relief, Asked From Garrard.

A meeting has been called for Friday evening at the court house to complete the organization of this county for the Armenian and Syrian Relief Fund and to prepare for the drive throughout the county which will probably be Sunday March 30th.

Other counties throughout the state have already raised its appropriations and our neighboring county Boyle, went far beyond her allotted apportionment.

Mr. Adolph Joseph has agreed to accept the chairmanship of the various working committees and went to Paint Lick Tuesday to effect an organization there. Committees will be organized over the entire county and the plans now are to so organized, that the work and amount may be subscribed in a short time.

All persons who are interested in the great work are asked to come to the meeting Friday evening when final arrangements will be made.

Other articles in this issue tell of the extreme importance of this work and we hope that all will read them and be enlightened even more as to the great needs of these suffering peoples.

BARROW UNIT ORDERED HOME Famous Organization Notified to Get Ready for Return to States.

The first definite information that the Barrow Unit, which is composed mainly of leading physicians, nurses and attendants from Lexington and other Bluegrass towns, would leave Salisbury Court, England, at once for its return trip to the United States—if indeed it had not already taken its departure—was received in Lexington Saturday.

This news came in a letter from Dr. David Barrow, head of the organization, to his son, Dr. Woolfolk Barrow, in which it was stated that orders had been received by the unit to make immediate disposition of its patients, check and pack all equipment and make ready to sail for home.

Several members of the unit arrived in New York Thursday on the Mauretania and some of them are expected in Lexington in the next few days.

INCOME TAX MAN Here Instructing Tax-Payer.

Mr. J. C. Russell, of the Internal Revenue Office, at Danville arrived in the city Tuesday morning and has fitted up his office in room 9, of the Kengarian Hotel, where he is instructing the taxpayer and giving all the assistance possible in making out the proper returns.

He expects to remain here until the 15th, and asks that the farmers come in and call for the "farmer" blanks, with their net income all figured out and the proper exemptions and little time will be taken in figuring the amount of tax due.

TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY.

The State Board of Health, the United States Public Health Service and the Red Cross are united in this appeal to every citizen of Kentucky to help in lessening the spread of Influenza and the development of Pneumonia.

Nearly four hundred thousand Kentuckians suffered from these diseases last year, and fourteen thousand died from them. Deaths and sickness can be greatly lessened this year if each individual will do his part in avoiding them.

Have yourself and family and every one dependent upon you inoculated at once. Nearly five hundred thousand have been inoculated in Kentucky. Very few of these have developed influenza, and less than a dozen have died from pneumonia. Material for inoculation is furnished free by the State Board of Health. Go to your doctor and be inoculated. If you are not able to pay for the service, go to your Health Officer and have it done without cost. Avoid visiting the sick, especially if they have colds or sore throats.

It is frequently difficult even for a doctor to tell a bad cold from mild influenza. Pneumonia, in nearly every case, is following neglected mild influenza. If you take cold, go home for the safety of the community, to a well ventilated room by yourself, for the safety of your family, and to your bed for your own safety. Send for your doctor, but if you are unable to get him, take a dose of Castor oil, drink water freely, and eat soups, eggs, and other soft food, salted to taste. Avoid whisky. It neither prevents nor cures influenza. Stay in bed until the cold is well, and if you stay by yourself the chances are you will not develop pneumonia. If you do these things and have been inoculated, you are practically certain not to develop pneumonia.

Cover your nose and mouth with your handkerchief when sneezing or coughing, and persuade others to do so. Don't go where crowds are, and if you find yourself where someone is sneezing and coughing, leave immediately.

Local epidemics of influenza are now occurring and are likely to occur from time to time for the next two or three years but they can be avoided by any community, family or individual if they will do these things.

Be inoculated today!

Good Roads Stay Put.

George Ade, the writer and humorist, once said: "Good roads cost money, but show me a community which has invested in hard roads, such as can be used at all times of the year, and which would be willing to go back to the mud-holes for a cash consideration."

COUNTY BOARD Of Supervisors Now In Session. $1,000,000 To Be Raised On Land.

Garrard County's Board of Supervisors convened last Monday and are now in session in the office of the County Tax Commissioner.

From the fact that the Tax Commissioner had raised the value of Garrard county land to nearly $3,000,000 over the assessment of 1917, it was thought that there would be no raise by the State Tax Commission, but such is not the case and the duties before the Supervisors is plainly laid down by that Commission and a raise on land in Garrard county of $1,000,000 is ordered and the value of town lots must also be raised not less than $25,000.

The local board is consisted of the following well known citizens representing the four magisterial districts of the county and all are men that will do their duty conscientiously and equitably: W. S. Carrier, chairman; Norman Grow, Walker Bradshaw and Burnam Leaford.

The State Tax Commission states specifically in a letter to Judge Stapp what is expected of the local board, which says:

"You will please lay this communication before the County Board of Supervisors at its meeting on the second Monday in March, or at such time as it takes up the consideration of the equalization of property in your county. After due consideration, and after the hearing on March 3, the State Tax Commission has concluded to direct the Board specifically as follows:

FIRST—It will increase the assessed value of lands from $8,268,494 to $9,268,494, or a total increase of not less than $1,000,000. The Board will do this by placing upon the assessment books all lands which have been omitted, and by increasing the assessed valuation of individual taxpayers whose assessments are less than 85 per cent. of their actual value. The Board should see that no property is assessed at less than 85 per cent of its actual value for the present year.

SECOND—It will increase the assessed value of town lots from $771,340 to $796,340, or a total increase of not less than $25,000.

THIRD—The Board will see that all tangible personal property, except live stock, agricultural implements, manufacturing machinery and raw material on hand at the plant, is assessed at not less than 85 per cent of its actual value. Live stock, agricultural implements, manufacturing machinery and raw material on hand at the plant should be assessed at 100 per cent of its value. The total of tangible personal property shall not be less than $2,169,917.

FOURTH—The total increase shall not be less than $1,025,000 on lands and town lots. If necessary to equalize on the basis indicated, the Board may exceed an increase of $1,025,000.

FIFTH—Certain intangible schedules have been returned to the Board, and the Board should follow the directions of the State Tax Commission in relation thereto, and should see that each person has the proper notice. In addition, the Board should seek diligently for intangible property which has not been assessed, and should get it all on the assessor's books. Intangible property placed on the books will not be considered as part of the above mentioned increase.

SIXTH—In assessing the shares of bank stock of the banks in your county, you should take the total of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits on an 85 per cent basis, which amounts to $372,222. From this amount you should deduct the assessed value of the real estate listed by the banks as of July 1, 1918. We note that your bank shares are assessed at $260,362. Please investigate if the difference between $372,222 and $260,362 was listed by the banks in real estate. Any increase on this assessment shall not be considered part of the above mentioned increase.

Mrs. J. L. Crady.

Mrs. A. S. Price received the shocking news of the sudden death of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Crady, in Louisville last Tuesday morning.

The cause of her death being pneumonia superinduced by influenza. Mrs. Price was not even aware of her sister's illness, and owing to the serious illness of Dr. Price, was unable to attend the burial services. Mrs. Crady is survived by her husband and two children, Mrs. R. L. Baccus and Miss Katherine Crady, all of whom live in Louisville.

SELF-FEEDER SAVES LABOR

Supply of Grain or Other Feed Kept Constantly Available—Device Gaining Favor.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With the ingredients of a good ration constantly before them, placed so that they may eat at will, hogs will make gains more rapidly and more economically than when fed by hand. The self-feeder is growing in popularity. It is simply a device by means of which a supply of grain or other feed is kept constantly available to the hogs, in order that they may always satisfy the craving of their appetites.

Pigs Getting Their Dinner at Self-Feeder.

with respect to the kind and amount of feed. "The Self-Feeder for Hogs" (Farmers' Bulletin 1000) explains the advantages of the self-feeder and gives bill of materials necessary for its construction.

The growing scarcity of farm labor is making it necessary to adopt systems of farming which will eliminate a part of the work required at rush seasons. Such a system is carefully described in "A Corn-Belt Farming System Which Saves Harvest Labor by Hogging Down Crops" (Farmers' Bulletin 614).

FEEDING SHEEP IN WINTER

Oil Meal Should Form Liberal Part of Grain Ration Where Coarse Feed Is Given.

Where sheep are fed largely on coarse rough feeds during the winter season, with little or no clover or alfalfa hay, or no silage or roots, oil meal should always form a liberal part of the grain ration. Its laxative and toning qualities will counteract the constipating effect of the dry, coarse feeds, which is the cause of most of the trouble which comes to flock owners in the winter months.

PIGS RELISH LINSEED MEAL

Sometimes Used as Supplement to Corn in Feeding—Is a Cheap Carrier of Protein.

Linseed meal is sometimes used as a supplement to corn in hog feeding, and when tankage or skim milk cannot be obtained at a reasonable price this feed may become the cheapest carrier of protein.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Pork hogs is a pretty fair business to follow now, provided you raise your feeds and every attention that we can give to make the best of hogs will pay us well in the future.

Grow into the sheep business—not go into it. Beginners should start on a rather small scale and increase the size of the flocks as experience is gained.

Rye pasture will be a disappointment if you depend upon it as a sole ration but stock should have grain and other roughage.

Beef feeders found long ago that in order to secure profitable and consistent gains all their cattle should be dehorned.

Alfalfa hay is rich in protein, a muscle-forming nutrient which idle horses are not so much in need of.

Cattle that are fed silage do not shrink in transit any more than do those receiving dry roughage alone.

Each calf needs a separate pail, for calves like all other animals differ in their speed of eating.

When breaking the colt, see that all parts of the harness are strong and fit well.

Why some farmers continue to breed to the scrub stallions is a mystery.

Avoid giving spoiled feed to the horses.

Forests of the Caucasus.

The forests of the Caucasus in Russia are estimated at 12,000,000 acres, chiefly in the Black sea territory, which is at the rate of nearly twenty acres to each inhabitant. The forests of western Siberia have been scarcely explored, but they are stated to be 20,000,000 acres in extent, more than half being in an absolute state of nature. —Rocky Mountain Herald.

Wisdom of the Ancients.

It is my custom every night to run all over the words and actions of the past day; for why should I fear the sight of my errors when I can admonish and forgive myself? I was a little too hot in such a dispute; my opinion might as well have been spared, for it gave offense and did no good at all. The thing was true, but all truths are not to be spoken at all times. —Seneca.

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR

An afternoon gown of brown chambrase and georgette, beaded and lace-trimmed.

SHOULD MATCH CAMISOLE

Newer Type of Blouse Affords Ugly Discrepancy Between Waist and Skirt Sections.

Is anything uglier than the transparent poplin blouse worn with a light camisole or corset cover? It was bad enough with the old-time blouse that ended at the belt line, but when the newer type of blouse is worn thus there is an ugly discrepancy between the waist section and the skirt section of the blouse.

Of course, where the front and back panel of the blouse are of some heavier material the effect is quite satisfactory. But when georgette or chiffon is used then one really needs a dark camisole. It is not always easy to buy these, although they are to be had in navy blue, one or two shades of brown, green and the other usual suit shades. But they are not difficult to make, and you should have one or two to go with every suit.

Soft satin of some sort is a good selection for the fabric, although crepe de chine is also good. They can be finished at the top with machine hem-stitching, such as you can have done at a dressmaker's supply store, and the shoulder straps may either be made of ribbon to match or some of the fabric finished with a narrow hem-stitching of the same sort. Needless to say, they should be adjusted so that none of the lighter lingerie appears above the dark camisole.

NO EXCUSE FOR UGLY HATS

Advance Headgear Models Show Variety From Which Most Fastidious Can Be Satisfied.

There should be no excuse for a woman selecting an ugly or unbecoming hat this season, judging from the variety of attractive advance models on view. The milliners seem to have taken thought for every feminine type. There are turbans high and low, daring and narrow, tall-crowned, narrow brimmed hats, low-crowned, broad-brimmed hats, models turned up at the front, at the back or at the side, pokes and tricornes, and among them all any woman should be able to find the design that particularly suits her.

There is a pronounced use of fabrics such as tulle, georgette crepe and satin, and in matter of trimmings feathers have taken on amazing forms, while flowers are often conventional to the point of perversity. Fruits, particularly of the extremely natural variety, are among the trimmings which are looked upon with increasing favor, and the more conventional ornaments of ribbons, wigs and ostrich tips are always in the background.

Follage, wheat-ears in various colors, fringe, cords and tassels, embroidered jet, beaded ornaments, plus and buckles all play their part in the amazing variety of decoration which is used so sparingly on the individual hat.

WING AND BIRD TRIMMINGS

Decorations for Headgear Are Simple and Effective, Adding Attractive-ness to Hats.

Among the trimmings of utmost simplicity undoubtedly more effect is gained by the daring sweep of wings or quills than can be achieved in any other manner. A high-crowned, narrow brown straw hat has small crisp wings angling close to the brim, but pointing out at either side. Long, slender wings sweep from the back of a satiu and straw toque; two short, flaring wings with fan-shaped edges spring from one side of a small, round turban of coarse straw.

A black bird spreads its wings over a pinched-up baret of red milan, and a small, high-crowned gray straw is topped by little overlapping gray wings laid close on the sides of the crown and softened by burnt ostrich feathers.

Coats of velvet de laine are embroidered in checker board patterns.

Honduras Attractive.

With a population estimated at 600,000 and an area approximately equal to that of Pennsylvania, Honduras has abundant room for development. It has a tropical climate with few of the usual disadvantages. The interior is mountainous and salubrious, with considerable rich land suitable for diversified farming and fruit growing, while all of the remainder, even the deep mountain slopes, is used for pasturage.

How Wind Travels.

When you are discussing the wind you must know that a gentle wind travels about five miles per hour, a high wind about 30 to 45 miles per hour, and a great hurricane 80 to 100 miles per hour. The velocity of the earth on its own axis exceeds, it is believed, 1,000 miles an hour. The velocity of the earth around the sun is calculated to be 66,000 miles per hour, and the velocity of the moon to be 2,273 miles per hour.

Where the Trouble Is.

If we cannot agree with our present co-workers or neighbors, making a change will in no way help to mend matters. It is almost a certainty that we shall find the new folks just like the persons we left behind us, as far as indifference and inconsideration are concerned. The trouble is with ourselves, and until we realize it and make an attempt to change our own unfortunate temperaments we will not be happy anywhere.

Canning.

The French were the first people to preserve fruits and vegetables. This was away back in 1810. The French government offered a prize for the best method of storing foods during the winter months, and among the solutions was the canning process. America invented the fruit jar and brought the canning industry to be one of the largest and most important in the world, running into billions of dollars annually.

The Movie Tariff.

Hareld was told to run over and see about the prices were for a special picture showing at the movies that evening. When he came back he said: "It's 11 cents for children and 17 cents for the overgrown."

Strength of Bone and Oak.

A very small bone, only one square millimeter—20.55 square inch—in diameter, will hold 331 pounds in suspension without breaking, while a piece of the best oak of the same thickness will hold up only 22 pounds.

ALL WEAR VELVET

Material Also Popular for the Small Girl.

Enters Largely into Construction of Best Frocks as Well as Garments for School Wear.

Everyone wears velvet this winter. This means that the small girl is either entirely or partially velvet-dressed during the majority of her wide-awake hours. Velvet is not used to develop evening frocks for the very young, but it enters very largely into the construction of many best or "Sunday" frocks, as well as into the garment designed for school wear. The dress made entirely of velvet is usually very picturesque and distinguished, with white collar and cuffs, and often a wide wash of satin in self or contrasting color. For school or service wear a velvet skirt may be accompanied by a blouse of crepe de chine or satin, or a sleeveless velveteen blouse may be worn over a plain or plaid frock of serviceable wool material.

The sketch shows a smart little frock for a girl of six or eight years, combining a one-piece dress of plaid serge in red and black with a square cut, hip-length coat of black velvet or velveteen, finished at the neck with a ruffle of white organdie or georgette. The sleeves of the jacket are cut short enough to show a few inches of the plaid sleeve.

The cap to be worn with this outfit may match either dress proper or jacket, or a combination of the two materials may be employed.

A great deal of attention is being paid to clothes for children this winter, and it is interesting to observe the exactness with which the wardrobe of the well-dressed grown-up is copied in miniature for the child.

Sleeveless and low-necked underslips of pale colored silks and satin for girls as young as four years are shown, to be worn under little party frocks of net and other sheer fabrics. Hand-embroidered silk pajamas and silk nightgowns are also developed for these very little people. This scheme of dressing has its advantages, too. It is a real education in the art of being well dressed, started at the right time.

DIMITY AND DOTTED SWISS

Fabric Used for Blouses Which Give Most Pleasing Effect—Handkerchief Linens Used.

Dimity and dotted swiss blouses are made up in smartly tailored waists which button up to the chin and have long sleeves and tight-fitting cuffs. So many women like this sort of waist for morning wear and for sports that it is a delight to find it in these two such cool and fresh materials.

The organdie waist, which was brought out some seasons ago, never really caught on, though it was attractive in the rather vivid shades of blue, rose and emerald. The organdie being so transparent, though so delightfully crisp, it looked particularly refreshing. Blouses made of it seemed practically two, as the smoothest fitting and most perfect of linings only underneath could be permitted.

It is the handkerchief linens which have supplanted these transparent beauties, and the linen lends all the charm of color which the crisp organdie presented. Many of the white linen waists have touches of color, as for instance in one smart model which has three stripes of color, one below the other and on each shoulder, these forming a sort of yoke. Very narrow frills finish the little yoke at the shoulders and trim the shallow, round collar and small cuffs.

Smocks for Girls.

The pretty little cotton smocks and frocks worn by Miss Eight-Year-Old are made smart with cross-stitching or something in brightly contrasting wool. Pale green cotton crepe de chine, for example, is trimmed with stitches of rose wool. All kinds of wool dresses have oriental effects done in coarse stitches on the pockets, collars or sash ends. Wool embroidery many times ornaments the frock, about the neck, as a substitute for the white collar worn formerly.

The Sixty-Fifth Congress.

The Sixty-fifth Congress, just expired, has been a body of remarkable experiences. No congress in our history has had as many and important problems with which to deal. We will all agree that it did many wise and beneficent things and many things that it should not have done. Also that it failed to do many things which it should have done.

This summary only shows that a body of men is human, and therefore both as well-intentioned and as liable to err as the individual man.

We remember that this congress declared a state of war between the United States and the imperial German government, and later, against the Austro-Hungarian government.

We gasp when we learn that in two years it appropriated nearly 55 billion dollars!

It passed the greatest tax laws in parliamentary history, in two years levying ten billion dollars in taxes upon the people. And in the same time it authorized bond issues aggregating twenty-two billions.

It passed a law to make the country dry after July 1st, 1919, for the duration of the war. And then it passed a constitutional amendment for national prohibition.

After it had made its great appropriations for different war purposes it usually had to turn to and investigate the application of the funds.

It was in every sense of the word a militant body. When it was not making war appropriations or pursuing war investigations or appointing food or fuel war commissions it was generally engaged in internal dissensions or in dissensions with the administration.

After all it was our congress and a thoroughly American one. It did the thing it set out to do, supplied the country with nearly four million fighting men, furnished the sinews of war for them and stood at their backs while they went through to victory. It has packed its valise and gone home to rest and to inspect and repair its political fences. Peace to its cigar ashes and fulfillment to its dreams!

The Seventeen Year Locust.

The seventeen-year locust, an insect extremely interesting to naturalists, but thoroughly detested by nurserymen and owners of orchards is due to appear in this country in large numbers during 1919.

The real name of this insect is the periodical cicada. It spends seventeen years slowly developing underground in infested localities. Its emergence in such localities every seventeen years has been observed in parts of the northern states either in the last week of May or the first week of June. No one can fail to recognize their presence in the given localities, for they are a noisy and a strenuous race. After five weeks the brief existence of the cicada ends in exhaustion and death.

Considerable injury is done to young orchards and nursery trees by these insects. No young orchards should be set out this year until fall, when the danger from the swarm of cicadas is over. Trees already in growth should be treated with sprays and whitewashing at the time of emergence of the cicadas.

The southern states harbor broods of the thirteen-year cicada, which while similar in appearance and habits, is a separate and distinct species from the seventeen-year insect.

The section of the revenue act approved February 24th, 1919, which authorizes the payment of a sixty-dollar bonus to all soldiers and sailors honorably discharged from the service, is a piece of fair and wise legislation.

The nation has taken these men from positions where they were earning a living and has employed them in its defence at a wage less than they were receiving. It is incumbent upon it to protect them against the chance of delay in finding employment. If a man goes directly back to a position the bonus will be useful to him. But if it takes time for him to secure employment the sixty dollars will be a wonderful help in finding him over.

Those who are discharged hereafter will receive the bonus with their final pay. Soldiers who have been discharged and have not received it should communicate with the zone finance officer, Lemon building, Washington, D. C., stating particulars and enclosing their discharge certificates. Sailors should make claim for payment discharged without the bonus should make claim for payment upon the naval bureau of supplies and accounts at Washington.

GERMANY TO BE RENDERED IMPOTENT—ARMY CUT TO 100,000—FORTS ALONG RHINE TO BE DISMANTLED—IMPERIAL GENERAL STAFF MUST BE ABOLISHED—DRAFT READY FOR PRESIDENT WILSON THURSDAY.

Paris, March 11.—The Supreme Council last night adopted military terms for the German Disarmament, which are most drastic and are designed to put her out of existence as a military nation. The Council has decided to limit her strength to the size of the Army of Switzerland, which is about 100,000, with 4,000 officers, all to be received on voluntary system for a period of twelve years. This of course kills the enforced draft, that has been the curse of Germany. Another provision limits the arms and munitions for only four hundred thousand men. All of the remainder must be destroyed or delivered to the allies. German forts along the Rhine must be destroyed and the Imperial General Staff abolished. Sufficient progress has been made in framing the peace treaty to insure its completion by March 20th. In fact, the first rough draft will be ready to present to President Wilson upon his arrival Thursday.

INTERESTING PAINTINGS And Antiques Owned By Miss Jane Hopper Of This City.

Miss Jane Hopper has upon the walls of her parlor two valuable paintings. These are by Jouett. This artist has "come into his own" with art collectors and his works are highly prized.

Among early Kentuckians to sit for Jouett for a portrait was a mark of gentility. One of Miss Hopper's portraits is of her grandfather, Edward Cronley, Esq., the other is of Gov. Robert T. Letcher. Governor Letcher sat for his portrait while he was yet a Congressman, and one of Clay's trio of political advisors of whom another was William Jordan Graves, a man, Garrard County born and reared. (These two sons of Garrard were pitted against each other in the gubernatorial race of 1840, Letcher closely winning.)

The painting portrays Letcher as a youngish man (apparently just old enough to enter Congress) with a full, round face and alert eyes, a face suggesting that fund of geniality with which he charmed into good humor murmuring crowds at pioneer stump speakings, a geniality pronounced a characteristic that it is mentioned as one of his virtues upon his tomb. The artist's brush depicts his sitter as a modish dresser in high stock, colored waist coat and frilled shirt, his face smoothly shaven except for a neatly trimmed short growth of beard just in front of each ear.

This portrait has attracted visits from members of the Letcher family from distant cities, and Miss Hopper has been offered an exceedingly handsome sum for it but she feels too keenly the pride of possession her late mother had in it, and her own sense of stewardship that it may pass down in her family.

On a white marble topped black walnut centre table in the same room is a silver water set massive pitcher and goblets that were used in the Executive Mansion at Frankfort during Governor Letcher's occupancy.

These heirlooms came into possession of Miss Hopper through her mother, the late Mrs. Seymour Hopper, who as an orphaned child was reared in the home of her uncle, Governor Letcher and wife, being childless. Governor Letcher's wife was Charlotte Robertson, sister of Chief Justice George Robertson, whom Henry Clay it is said, declared was the most beautiful woman of his acquaintance. A photograph of Mrs. Letcher also in possession of Miss Hopper bears a striking likeness to her great niece, the late Mrs. Fannie D. Gill of Lancaster.

The companion portrait of Gov. Letcher, the painting of his wife, is in possession of the family of the late Mrs. Charlotte Warren, of Stanford, she having been a great niece and namesake of this charming woman.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The graduating class of the Lancaster High School has organized and is busy talking about invitations, rings, and commencement generally, while the teachers are talking about getting the year's work creditably done.

The following officers were elected: Mary Davis—President; Bernice Champ—Secretary; Willie Sanders—Treasurer.

Besides the officers, the following are members of the class: Hudson Frisbie, William Kinnaird, Gordon Doty, Pearl Dickerson, Anna Pritton Moss, Katie Barnes Dickerson, Nell Rigley, Minnie Mae Robinson, Carrie Belle Romans, and Irene Aldridge.

The class has lost two members this year: Bowman Grant, who entered Transylvania in September by examination; and Robert Noland who finished the regular work and entered Transylvania since the holidays.

The class colors are "white and yellow"; the motto is "Loyalty, Honor, Service".

The State Y. M. C. A. Bible Study Contest in high schools in Kentucky, was opened again several days ago. The boys of the upper grades of the Lancaster School entered the contest with a class of twenty-eight as follows: William Kinnaird, Homer Rice, Elsie Carrar, Eugene Cochran, Eugene Broadbush, George Walker Lawson, Walker Robinson, Samuel Elliott, Hamilton Cox, Cecil Henry, Paul Morrow, J. R. Haselden, Elcee and Harry Branton, Jesse Gooch, Paul Stapp, Henry Cox, J. O. Bogue, A. C. Sanders, William Carpenter, Charlie Rice Gaines, George H. Robinson, Ansel Rutledge, Ben Kavanaugh, Morris Swinebroad, Watson Palmer, Luther Rich and Everett Aldridge. This is a wide awake class of boys, who have entered the contest to win, if possible; but at least to put their school on the map.

This course of ten lessons covers a period of eight weeks. The subject of these lessons is "Jesus the Leader".

The four ministers of the town are teaching the class on Thursdays after school hours. William Kinnaird is president of the class and J. R. Haselden Jr., is secretary.

TWENTY NINTH YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 13, 1919.

NUMBER 50.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS ARE DUE This Year Is Expected To Be One Of The Worst on Record.

Great swarms of the seventeen-year locust will infest the United States in late May and early June this year, which is expected by scientists to be one of the worst "locust years" on record. Experts of the Department of Agriculture, however, see nothing alarming in the prospect.

Once regarded superstitiously as a harbinger of disaster, the periodical cicada, popularly known as the seventeen-year locust because it comes at long intervals, is seen now to be no more than an ordinary non-poisonous insect pest, which can do little damage if proper precautions are taken. The chief injury inflicted by the insect consists almost wholly in chiseling grooves in the branches of trees for depositing eggs. Young fruit trees sometimes are killed, but the damage generally seems greater than it actually is, according to the entomologists, and popular alarm is out of proportion to the real danger.

Suggested precautionary measures are: Defer putting out young fruit trees until next year; postpone building operations; do no pruning this spring.

When the insects begin coming out handpick them from young trees or spray them with pyrethrum powder, kerosene emulsions, or a solution of carbolic acid or acetic acid.

Later, when the insects are ready to begin laying, spray young fruit trees with white wash.

The Department of Agriculture has kept close check for many years of all the broods of locusts, and can forecast accurately when and where the pests will appear. Large regions will be affected this year where one brood appeared seventeen years ago, and in other regions which suffered thirteen years ago, the States including Alabama, District of Columbia, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

Belief that the 1919 brood will be exceptionally large is based on the fact that the seventeen-year brood coming out this year is brood 10, perhaps the largest of the seventeen-year broods, and that brood 18 of the thirteen-year family comes out at the same time. The year 1868 was the greatest locust year in history, when brood 19, the largest of the thirteen-year family, appeared in conjunction with brood 10 of the seventeen-year family.

KHAKI COLUMN

The following interesting letter for Corporal Simon Tankersley, a volunteer from this county, who is "somewhere in France" doing his "bit" for Uncle Sam, was written to his mother, Mrs. Nancy Tankersley, and will be read eagerly by his numerous friends and relatives in the county.

"Somewhere in France" Feb'y. 6th.
My Dear Mother:—

I will answer your letter that I received today, and was so glad to hear from you and was glad to know that you and the rest were well. I had been thinking perhaps that there was something wrong there and you would not write me and at night I would lay on my bed and study about you all and think of many things. But at last I heard from you, and then I saw that was just in thought that I had within my self, and I hope I will find you all well when I get home. I have been writing you all since a week ever since I came over here, and it has been four months since I had a letter from any one in the States, so you may know how I feel here, and there is not one man in this company that I knew until I came here.

I sometimes think I am a very lucky boy. I have been in the army about nineteen months now, and have been in four Companies and been with many people, but mother is the only one, and I think I will get to see you by the first of April, if nothing happens.

Mother, if I have got any money in the bank and you need it, you write a check for as much as you want or all of it if you want it. There is no need of me trying to send you money from over here, for it is a chance to risk so I will not risk it as I am expecting to start on my way to the States soon. Mother I had a dream last night about you and I hope it will soon come true.

Well tell all the kids hello and to look for me soon, I will be at home some day and we will have some time then.

Well I will write Henry and Dicie a few lines: Well Dicie I will eat every thing you have up, for I am tired of this army grub. Well Henry, I will soon be with you again and we can go to the Lodge. Do you ever hear from Bob M. C.? What are you doing now? It is pretty cold here, we have some snow and rain and frost, but it never gets too bad to drill.

Well I will close, as ever

Your loving son,
Corporal Simon Tankersley.
Co. B., 111 Infantry.
Am. Ex. Forces, France.

The interesting letter below was written to Miss Elvree Carter, of R. R. No. 3, this city, by her brother, Millard F. Carter, who is with the U. S. Army in France:

"Jan. 26, 1919.

My Dear Sister:—

Your loving letter received this morning and it was the most welcome letter I have received in many months—all hopes of ever hearing from you again had just about vanished and it was my intention to have written to you this A. M., even had I not received your letter.

I wrote to Virginia last night and must write to Florence this afternoon also to Bertha as I received letters from each along with yours.

We have received little or no mail the last two months as it seems the French refuse to throw the mail bags off the trains, claiming they have nothing to do with it anymore—there is no accommodation whatever about these French people; all they are after is the busy frame, and if there is none of them forthcoming, then its poor service you'll get in France.

Winter is here in real earnest now but up to a week ago it had been with us only in a half hearted way. It is snowing today which is the second snowfall we've had this winter, the other one fell on Xmas day but was very light.

Well, Elvree have just now rec'd a letter from Squire Whitaker which was some surprise but was awful glad to hear from him—he seems to think we are in the same camp as the towns are spelled exactly the same except the town here has an e on the end, but he is mistaken as the town he is in is about three hundred miles west of here but on the same river—if I only had a canoe I could float down and see him.

He is near the seaport of St. Nazaire and has been there since October, said he had been in Scotland and England but said nothing about returning home. His address is Hdq. Co. 309 Engineers, A. P. O. 701, Am. Ex. Forces.

We are still in Montoire and from the way it looks we will be here for several months—have given up all hopes of getting home soon and will feel fortunate if I am back by the 4th of July.

We are fixed up pretty nice and comfortable, that is, for army life and if we must remain in France then I'd prefer to remain as we are—there is only fifty-two of us boys here now as about fifty-five left the other day to join the rest of the company which is stationed near Tours.

The company hasn't been together since we left Gierres and don't think we will ever get together until we are ready to start home. We have been split up in small detachments of forty and fifty and scattered around in different parts of France. The boys in Tours are building roads while the only thing we are doing here is guard duty. Am sending you the long promised pictures which are none too good but they'll give you a fair idea of how I look and perhaps I can send you some better ones in the near future. You can see from the picture that I am a real heavy-weight now—a-days—haven't weighed for months but judge I weigh about 185 pounds.

Was real sorry to hear you had been sick with the "flu" but awful glad to hear you pulled through with out any serious results—it is a terrible disease and it seems there will never be no let up to it. I have been fortunate since I've been over here. About the worst thing I've had is a few cases of cold feet.

John said in his last letter that James expected to be mustered out of the army soon and had a good job open for him in Los Angeles, at $100. per month. Would like the best in the world to be home myself but there's no use to be impatient and I might as well be contented as the French say "reste ice", (remaining here).

Must close hope this finds Marie, Luther, Lotie, wife and baby as well as yourself in the best of health. Much love to all. Write soon.

Lovingly,

Your Brother,

The Monroe Doctrine.

The Monroe doctrine—the principle under which the United States neither joins in European entanglements nor permits encroachments of any foreign power upon the American continent—has been for a century past an integral part of the United States policy. It was instilled into us all at an early age, side by side with the doctrines and catechism of our especial religious sect. The nation at large has a faint idea that it could get along without any one religious body, but it has a firm conviction that the Monroe doctrine is the sine qua non of America.

Now the plan is for America to take her part in a wider world and become a member of the League of Nations. She is willing to do this and to help ensure peace upon earth if that is a possibility. But she does not want to emulate the dog of the fable and drop a known and sure good in reaching out for a problematical greater and indefinite one.

The League of Nations for America and the world! so far, so good. But first and foremost, a renewed recognition of the Monroe doctrine to safeguard the interests of America.

VICTORY LOAN WILL BE SOLD TO PUBLIC JUST AS OTHER ISSUES WERE

RUMORS THAT BANKS WERE TO BE CALLED ON TO TAKE FIFTH LOAN CORRECTED BY SECRETARY GLASS.

RUMORS and unauthorized statements which have been spread abroad over the country to the effect that there was to be no Fifth Liberty Loan have been brought to the attention of Secretary of the Treasury Glass. The secretary reiterates his statements—

That there will be a Fifth Liberty Loan;

That it will be a popular one—sold to the people;

That there is no idea on the part of the government to sell the bonds to the banks;

That the Fifth Liberty Loan will be floated this Spring, undoubtedly beginning in the latter part of April.

The financial heads of the government are perfecting the plans for an issue that will meet the requirements of the time and the Central Liberty Loan committee of the Fourth Federal Reserve district at Cleveland is well along in the task of laying a foundation for a campaign which will outdo in intensity any of the four preceding campaigns.

Stories emanating from Washington and discussing the preliminary plans of legislators may have a tendency to befog the reader. It must be remembered that these stories are speculation, merely reflecting the mind-workings of the men who will ultimately have to narrow down to some one procedure. Enough has already been definitely settled to permit the secretary of the treasury to make the statements above and to emphasize them.

To further emphasize the fact that there will be a Fifth Victory loan and to correct the impression which has erroneously been circulated that the banks would have to take the loan, Governor E. R. Fancher of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland recently sent word to all of the Liberty Loan workers in the district calling upon them to correct these false impressions.

Down and Out—But His Tongue Still Wags

THE HUN is still able to whisper. One of his favorite subjects is Liberty Bonds.

The bonds are absolutely the best secured in the world so he dares not attack them openly.

He whispers to you to sell them, hoping to demoralize the market. And he has about as much chance of doing this as he had of winning the war. It is characteristic Hun stupidity.

Every time you are approached to sell your Liberty Bond or to trade it for stock in some unknown and unestablished project, remember it is the voice of the Hun speaking.

Then take another grip on your Liberty Bonds and hold tight. Keep those you have and be ready to buy more when the Victory Liberty Loan is offered for sale in April.

A Miser, A Woman And Two Stars---

A miser, born in a land afar, Who'd gained a fortune over here, Where Liberty is the guiding star, Looked up from his gold with a bitter leer.

"I got it by pinching and going with out;

They call me greedy; I am," said he. "The Nation's call to lend I flout. For bonds they'll get no gold from me."

A woman gazed on a star of gold. She'd given all she had to give, And sacrificed to lend, 'twas told. That Liberty and Land might live.

"And I'll lend again and again," she said.

"To help to remedy war's ills,

"And to keep true faith with our hero dead

By helping pay our war-time bills."

Liberty Loan Levity

Just a half-wit, they called Barber Blaney. Barber knew, though, some day would be rainy. So he shaved and he shaved—And he shaved and he shaved—And bought bonds—Now they call Blaney braver.

FAIR VIEW

THE HOME OF "VATICAN," "BERMUDA GIRL" AND FAMOUS "NELL" AT

PUBLIC AUCTION

ON

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19th

At Ten O'clock A. M., on the Premises

I will offer for sale for James J. Neale, this fine farm of two hundred and two and one-half acres, situated on the Lexington pike, (Dixie Highway), about one and one-half miles from the city limits of Richmond, Madison county, Ky.

This farm is known all over the United States as the home of Vatican, the great sire, and Nell, the first mare to produce five trotters in the 2:10 class, including Bell-Vara with two world records to her credit; and Bermuda Girl, a Futurity winner in the nineties.

Richmond is a city which has always been noted for its morality, its culture and its wealth. Educational facilities are unbounded—the Eastern Kentucky State Normal School, Madison Institute, and two large High Schools make it an educational center, within 50 minutes by automobile to Lexington.

The farm faces on the Dixie Highway from the south side—the right side, because the prevailing winds are from the south and the dust always goes the other way, and the afternoon shade will always be on the front porch.

All This Land Is Well Watered with Springs and Ponds

There is no better land in the Bluegrass, and real bluegrass will continue to go up for years, because it is limited in amount and is considered the most productive land in the world. Everybody wants a piece of bluegrass land. It is known all over the world. It will raise Corn, Tobacco, Hemp, Wheat, Oats, Rye, Truck Garden—anything that grows in moderate climate. It produces the Kentucky Thoroughbred, export cattle, fine hogs, sheep, and develops them to perfection.

I am going to sell this farm for the High Dollar, and if you want land, come and see this.

To See It Is To Want It

For the benefit of those who want a home and are unable to buy the whole tract, it will be offered in tracts, and then as a whole. Where will you ever again find a more beautiful place for a home than these small tracts?

The Four Tracts

TRACT No. 1.—30 acres, unimproved, facing on Dixie Highway, a beautiful building site, adjoining the land of Mr. H. B. Hanger.

TRACT No. 2.—30 acres, unimproved, facing the Dixie Highway, another beautiful building site, adjoining the above tract.

TRACT No. 3.—60 acres upon which is located a tenant house, large barn with silo, which can be used for either stock or tobacco barn. This tract is between Tract No. 2 and Tract No. 4 and has an excellent building site for a dwelling on the Dixie Highway.

TRACT No. 4.—82 1-2 acres upon which is situated an excellent modern dwelling, with water and lighting systems, all necessary outbuildings, 2 large barns, one with silo, can be used for either stock or tobacco, tenant house and everything essential for a good home. This tract faces the Dixie Highway and is bounded on the north by the Jack's Creek pike.

I have made many sales in Madison county, and I have never failed to sell any land I have offered.

This land is up for sale to the highest bidder and it is going to sell. Immediate possession.

DON'T FORGET THE DATE—Wednesday, March 19th, 1919, at 10 A. M.

Terms will be announced on day of sale and will be liberal.

MANAGEMENT OF A PIG CLUB

It is Duty of Agent to Furnish Information to Supervisors Who Instruct Members.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The boys and girls' club work is carried on through co-operation between the animal husbandry division of the bureau of animal industry and the states relation service representing the department of agriculture and the various state agricultural colleges represented by their respective extension departments.

A swine specialist, supported by funds appropriated by congress for the work of the animal husbandry division, is placed in each of the states desiring such a man (so far as funds permit). The specialist's work is administered by the director of extension, who furnishes office room and equipment, stenographic assistance, and pays his traveling expenses. He is a unit in the extension staff and works in closest cooperation with the state leader of other club work. All the work is done in cooperation with the county agent force and the various interested departments of the college and extension force. The subject matter taught by the specialists is agreeable to the animal husbandry department of the college and the animal husbandry division of the department of agriculture. A simple project or agreement covering the work is arranged by the states relation service between the extension service of the agricultural college and the animal husbandry division.

The pig-club agent is the leader of the animal-club work in the state. It is his duty to provide technical instruction for the club members; to provide supervisors or local leaders and to train them so that they may impart the information to the members. In some cases the duty of organizing the pig clubs falls to the lot of the state agent, while in other states the state leader of general club work and his staff attend to the organization. He works with and through the county agent force and makes use of such local leaders as are available. He projects his vision of the work into the minds of the local leaders and through them into the lives and minds of the members. He must impart his technical information in terms that can be understood by the local leaders and applied by the members. He meets the swine breeders of the state and seeks to win their approval, support, and cooperation. His work must be constructive and must strike at the swine-husbandry problems of the state. He will plan and arrange for the state-wide exhibits, judging contests, etc. He visits members on their farms and helps them solve their problems. He conducts demonstrations, single in nature, yet effective in solving the problems of the members and the adults. His work must win the support of the parents of the members if it is to be successful.

The individual effort of the agent would accomplish little were it not for the splendid co-operation extended by the extension forces, by the bankers and business men, breeders, local interested people, etc. The work succeeds because the agent multiplies his influence through all the co-operating agencies.

The pig club has not only stimulated the demand for better breeding stock, but also has been the means of introducing community breeding or breed standardizing in numerous counties in various states where the pure bred part of the industry is practically new and where there were not numerous breed preferences to contend with. The pig club boys have not only taught the adults, where the industry is new, the superiority of the pure bred over the scrub, but have taught them that good individuals bring good prices. "Before this year," says one county agent, "it was hard to get a farmer to pay $10 for a good hog; now they pay $50 to $100."

In addition to these benefits the pig club work is stimulating pork production to an extent extremely important at this time, stimulating home curing of meat through the organization of "ham and bacon" clubs, teaches the members better working methods, inspires pig club boys to better work by educational exhibits and increases their knowledge through judging contests. These are in addition to the indirect results, such as awakening a new spread of comradeship between father and son and the teaching of intelligent borrowing and good business methods through the financing of members by bankers.

WHAT'S UNDER THE HIDE?-----A "16 TO 1" STORY!

The International Live Stock Exposition, held annually at Chicago, is generally acknowledged the world's greatest steer show. The most practical class in this show is the "Carcass Contest". Two butcher judges pick the grand champion beef carcass each year, one placing the animals on foot, and the other judging their meat after slaughter for dressing percentage, quality, waste fat, etc. ABERDEEN-ANGUS have won every Carcass grand championship since the first show in 1900, giving this breed 16 victories to 1 for all other breeds, grades and crosses!

Buy now, or breed to an Aberdeen-Angus Bull and raise some champions steers or heifers. They have no horns and are ready for the market at any age. We will offer the service of one of our Registered Aberdeen-Angus Bulls on the farm one mile from McCREARY at the very low price of $3.00 cash at time of service with return privilege.

Cruise Overlooked a Bat.
That Robinson Crusoe, in spite of his well known resourcefulness, overlooked a fine business opportunity is shown by the fact that the island of his adventures, Mica-Tierra off the Juan Fernandez group off the coast of Chile, is now the seat of a large boot-making industry. Crusoe seemed to think he was doing remarkably well to pick up the necessities of life on that island—and most of them were washed ashore from a wreck at that—but his modern inhabitants do a thriving business in the export of luxuries.

LACE IS IN VOGUE

Decoration Promises to Be in Demand This Spring.

Coming Season to See Revival of Trimmed Batiste or Lawn Frocks Necessary to Women.

Are you aware of the fact that we are about to experience a revival of interest in lace?

Doubtless this has been brought about in part by the men and women whose business interests center in the sale of lace. Moreover, a correspondent, it is again possible to get laces that were unavailable during the war. The revival of lace will mean that numerous women of Europe will have a means of earning a living; that we can help them to help themselves during reconstruction.

Real laces will be especially in demand, and this is in keeping with the revival of interest in all hand-wrought fabrics and tissues. But we are not going to be content with the old-time mode of applying lace, which was too often stiff and prim.

Designers are going back to the lavish method of the Renaissance, when ecclesiastical combined the most costly of laces with the most gorgeous of embroideries and silks in the vestments worn on great festivals, and to the great court ladies of those days, who vied with the great pretelons in their lavish use of lace and brilliant fabrics.

The prediction is made that this spring will see a revival of the sort of lace-trimmed batiste or lawn frocks that we used to regard as indispensable to every woman's wardrobe. If made by hand they require days and days of work, and if by machine actually miles of fine stitching. There are yards and yards, moreover, of lace insertion, and sometimes innumerable tucks. The result is a frock that is perennially fresh, for if it is not made to go in the tub, it is at least capable of being changed repeatedly.

Colored sheer cotton fabrics are used in the advance models for frocks and blouses, and instead of using white lace on these many of them show Valenciennes that has been tinted to match the fabric with which it is used.

Although in most of the new frocks for evening and afternoon wear there is a decided lack of lace or other trimming to relieve the severity of the line at the neck, still it is said that this spring we will enjoy a revival of dainty neck laces—neck accessories, frills and jabots and ruffles. They will be worn with suits and day frocks, and will make use of a lavish amount of beautiful laces.

BRONZE NET EVENING GOWN

The above is regarded as one of the season's charming evening gowns. It is in bronze net, beaded in the same color.

PALE COLORS FOR THE GIRLS

Blue and Pink the Standard Combination With Mauve and a Favorite Blend.

Pale blue and pluk is still the combination for girls of eighteen; mauve and anuue, another happy blend, with accordion-plaited foundations, also finds favor with younger women.

Silver metal lace allied with pale blue velvet ribbons and a posy of flowers are the suggestions for one dainty confection, with long wing sleeves and a many-flounced skirt. For a tall girl there's a dress pretty enough to tempt one to break the tenth commandment.

Of flesh-colored crepe de chine, the V-shaped neck is edged with net, while the sleeves are of georgette. The skirt is made of plain crepe de chine, three rows of pearl fringe giving the triple-skirt effect rather in favor just now. The piece round the waist is also thickly lacustrated with motifs of pearl beads.

Another frock is of that romance-inspiring moonlight blue crepe, and the new trimmings are of piousness called tea senettes. Draped tulle is responsible for the sleeves, with scarf-bands held in by a charmeuse belt. On the corage and top of skirt is a touch of beautiful embroidery.

Oyster Mystery Explained.
We are told that oysters are sensitive to extremes of heat. Which explains why you run across so few of the little darlings in a bowl of soup.—Knoxville Journal.

"FOLKS WHO PESTER ME"

Somebody asked an old Missouri store-keeper why he didn't put a small advertisement in the local newspaper to advertise a "home blend" of coffee that was particularly good.

"I don't wanta", he replied lazily. "If I did, folks would pester me all the time to show 'em my goods". Thus did an old Missouri store-keeper pay unconscious tribute to the business-getting value of advertising. He missed a lot of business, of course, but there's another side of it.

Lots of people who really wanted this particular brand of coffee were unable to get it because no one ever told them where it was to be had.

You know yourself that it would take you twice as long to shop if there were no advertisements to guide you in your buying. You'd miss a lot of good values just because no one ever told you about them.

The man who advertises is glad to have you "pester him" to show you his goods. Don't miss the advertisements. They will save you money.

Knitting Instructions For Childrens Stockings.

Casting on and binding off MUST be loose. These directions are based on a yarn of suitable weight for socks and Red Cross needles No. 1. When yarn or needles are larger or smaller than these, the number of stitches must be proportionately decreased or increased.

To measure the stocking, lay it on a level surface and measure with a dependable measure (wood, metal, or celluloid, not a tape-line).

Always join threads by aplicing or by running threads through each other with worsted needle.

Tie finished stockings loosely together in pairs at top of leg, in such a way that the hand can be inserted for inspection and attach a marker of some sort which tells the size of the stockings. If stocking is thin at point of gusset, reinforce by darning on wrong side very lightly with a split thread of yarn.

DIRECTIONS.

Size of foot, 7 1-2 inches.

Quantity of Wool required—5 oz.

Cast on Stitches—44 stitches.

IT'S NOT YOUR HEART IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. A majority of the ill-afflicted people today can be traced back to kidney trouble.

The kidneys are the most important organs of the body. They are the filterers, the purifiers, of your blood.

Kidney disease is usually indicated by weakness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, pain in the back and lower abdomen, gait unsteady, rheumatism, scurvy and lumbago.

All these derangements are nature's signals to warn you that the kidneys need help. You should use GOLD MEDAL, Hoffman Oil Capsules immediately.

The soothing, healing, stimulating the kidneys, relieves inflammation and destroys the germs which have caused it. Do not wait until tomorrow. Go to your drugist today and insist on GOLD MEDAL, Hoffman Oil Capsules. In twenty-four hours you should feel health and vigor returning.

After you feel that you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two capsules each day, so as to keep in first-class condition and ward off the danger of other attacks.

Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. Three sizes. Money refunded if they do not help you.

It is a secret—a dreadful secret—and friend husband must not know. If widely, would be a radical, let her be a radical. It's part of the trend of the times to have liberal ideas and plans for reforming the world.

But—

Here is where the rub comes in. So many millions of radical twist feel they must enforce their radicalism by frank behavior. Radicalism turns many women's heads and, instead of fighting actively for the cause, they merely parade for the cause.

So it happens that a crop of cigarette-smoking, bobbed-hair females has sprung up of late, with talks about new ideas, the vote, free verse and diverse other subjects. But as for doing things, these women have no time for that. They are too busy hunting what they believe to be the badges of radicalism. They just wear radical dresses with unusual collars and cuffs, and learn how to blow smoke rings at afternoon teas. These occupations leave them no time for action.

So they forget the real purpose of the ideas they claim to believe in.

The women who are really working for world progress are the quiet women who do not smoke and do not dress "radically." They are the good women who are bringing up their children properly, the teachers, the women writers and business women. The women who are too busy with their work to have time for parading are the women who are making the world better and clearer.

So discard your cigarettes and trousseaus, and get to work, if you would achieve something worth while.

CAPT. LANG Holds Altitude Record. English Aviator Had Reached Height of Five and Three Quarter Miles.

Chief honors for altitude flight in an airplane belong to Capt. Lang, of the British Royal Air Force, who on January 2, reached the record height of 20,500 feet, or more than five and three-quarter miles. The feat was performed from Marches, near Ipswich, England, in a two-seater biplane fitted with an engine of British design and make. Previously the altitude record had been held by Capt. R. W. Schroeder, an American pilot, who ascended from the Wright aviation field last September 18 to a height of 28,000 feet and ascended near Canton, Ohio.

Capt. Lang carried Lieut. Blowers as a passenger and observer. Both men were frostbitten during the flight and when it was over, having had the hardship to disrobe what he had done, Capt. Lang was arrested for the offense of talking of the details without the authority from his superiors.

They started the flight in moderate weather. At 2,000 feet the temperature had dropped below freezing. A height of 25,000 feet was made in thirty-eight minutes and twenty seconds, and the reading of 30,500 feet was made when they had been aloft sixty-six minutes and fifteen seconds.

At 20,000 feet, feeling faint, Lieut. Blowers turned on the oxygen supply, and again, at 24,000 feet, he tried to give himself extra oxygen, without relief. Then he found that the pipe connecting with the oxygen bottle had been broken by the vibration of the machine. He tried to notify Capt. Lang of their plight, but collapsed before he could pass a written message to him, and Lang, who had not been seriously affected, kept mounting the machine, in ignorance of the mishap of his observer.

Lang's first notion of trouble came at a height of 28,000 feet, when his heating apparatus acted erratically. At 29,000 feet he was aware of the shortage of oxygen, but he was out for a record that would stand, and kept on. It does not appear how high he might have flown if he had been unchecked, but at 30,500 feet the petrol could not reach the engine, the pressure of the air being too slight to Time Fiddling.

There is a lot of time fiddled away in this world, one way and another, by good people who have the best of intentions. We will venture to assert, along this line, that more time is fiddled away by folks who peek at fashions than in any other manner. Almost everybody is seized at some stage in his life with a desire to ride another tongue to his own, but it usually results in nothing more than time wasted.

Dr. King's New Discovery almost never fails to bring quick relief

Small doses once in awhile and that throat-clearing, lung-cleansing cough soon quiets down. Another dose and a hot bath before jumping into bed, a good sleep, and back to normal in the morning.

Dr. King's New Discovery is well known. For fifty years it's been relieving coughs, colds and bronchial attacks. For fifty years it has been sold by druggists everywhere. A reliable remedy that you yourself or any member of your family can take safely.

Watch Those Stubborn Bowels Help nature take its course, not fight it. Use Dr. King's New Life Pills. Tonic in action, it stimulates the bowels. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Try to Be Agreeable.

We should wisely cultivate the art of being agreeable, not only in the company of our business associates or those persons whom we meet socially but in our own homes as well. By thus deporting ourselves we shall find life more pleasant and people in general—the home folks in particular—more considerate. On the other hand, if we continue to think only of ourselves we shall find life a trying affair.—Exchange.

SENSIBLE COLLARS ON COAT

Fear of Return of High and Stiff. Wired Chokers Is Groundless, According to Report.

Now that the war has taught women not only how to dress their feet, but how to use them, the new hexagons are about to give a lesson in what to do about collars. For the very low collars and open throats have been so comfortable and almost universally becoming that most women have completely forgotten the days of high, tight-fitting things of bones, wires and semicircles which tried tempers and certainly marred looks, notes a writer in the New York Sun.

The boxcoat demands a waistcoat. The waistcoat calls for a collar, so here we are facing the solution of the collar question. And there is a new neck line called the double line. It is achieved by placing one material above the other, as, for instance, a vestee of dark blue brocade has an upper line of blue georgette over the brocade which stops at least four inches under the top line and is edged with a brighter blue across the top. This will do very nicely for the front, and in the back a slight collar of the brocade finishes off the collarless boxcoat at the neck.

Again, the straight, round military collar which so often appears on these little coats calls for no further finish, as often it is bridled in the most military effect or made of fine velvet or brocade; or, again, a band of fur high and straight around, something like the long ago "chin chin" things.

There is no fear of the stiff little boned and wired collar returning. However, the high collar is very smart—there is no doubt about that—but it has wonderful modifications.

All of the Red Cross workers, the Y. M. C. A. motor corps girls and other hard-working women so persistently demanded this sort of collar that it seems to be the mark of efficiency, and well-dressed women have availed the other, at least in working hours. To the rest of us, though, collars are very dear, also very becoming.

Washington's Hair in Ring.

A silver ring containing locks of hair of George Washington has been added to the collection of relics of Alexandria Washington lodge of Masons, No. 22, in Alexandria, Va. The ring, which was the property of Mrs. Martha Washington, contains several locks of Washington's hair—of reddish brown mixed with gray. It is inscribed "A. Hamilton, 1798." Abigail Hamilton was the grandmother of the donor.

Plants Affected by Sun.

Some remarkable variations in plant structure and color from exposure to the sun at different hours of the day have been brought to the notice of the Royal Microscopical Society of England by Col. H. E. Huxson. In flowers of the common nasturtium—tropaeolum majus—the low sun of the early morning developed yellow coloring matter, the middle sun of midday stimulated the violets, blues and purples. The color of the foliage and lobing of the leaves also changed.

Skilled in Fine Work.

One of the trades calling for the greatest skill is the making of compasses. This work had never been undertaken by women until dilution of labor became necessary. Of the infinite number of delicate parts demanded absolute accuracy, women have succeeded in making all but two or three and even these will shortly be to their credit.

SEED TREATMENT OF IMPORTANCE

Productive Power of Corn Plant Influenced by Attention Given to Kernel.

MUTILATION MOST HARMFUL

Shipping, Cracking and Breaking That Take Place in Shellers and Planters Reduce Productiveness of Plants.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Conclusive evidence has been obtained from several lines of work conducted by the United States department of Agriculture to prove that the productive power of a corn plant is influenced by the treatment received by the kernel from which the plant grew from the time it ripened until it was planted. It has been common knowledge that injury to seed corn would reduce its germinability. Those investigations have extended beyond germination tests and determined the effects of seed treatment upon productivity independent of germinability.

Obtain Good Stand.

A good stand may be obtained by the thick planting of poor seed, but with an optimum stand of plants from injured seed such plants are less productive than the same number from unimpaired seed. These results follow when the seed is injured by normal weather conditions as well as when injured by selection to produce, freezing and thawing. Mechanical mutilations of kernels similar to the chipping, cracking and breaking that to some extent take place in shellers and planters reduce the productiveness of the plants that grow from such kernels.

Reduce Power of Seed.

The point of value that has been established is that, independent of germinability, injury to dominant seed corn reduces the power of such seed to produce a good crop. Seed corn of low germination, laboriously secured from injured seed by individual germination tests, is less productive.

Basket of Seed Corn.

Five than seed that matured well and was secured for us to make individual corn testing unnecessary.

Tests under the same environmental conditions of widely dissimilar varieties have brought out the value in long-season districts of making plantings at different periods and using at least two varieties of different seasonal requirements in order better to meet the exigencies of the season and to insure a crop.

To Remove Grease.

The following method, described in Popular Science Monthly, has been substituted for the use of gasoline and other light oils: Boil the parts in caustic soda lye; one pound to a gallon of water; then brush while the articles are hot. Caustic soda is recommended as better than ordinary soda, since it causes the fat or grease to dissolve more quickly.

Australian Pearls.

Pearls that come from the coast of Australia are of many shapes and colors. Those under ten grains are sold by the ounce, above that by the grain. Color has a deal to do with the value. The white pearls go mostly to Europe and the yellow ones to India. In Australia an ounce of good white pearls will fetch up to $100, but sometimes realize only a fifth of that amount. The yellow pearls may be rated on an average of about half the value of the white ones.

Step Higher Up.

If all our actions and motives in daily life could be actuated by a subconscious and all-pervading idea of bettering ourselves as we go along step by step for figurative letters of recommendation as to our ability to engage in the next trench ahead, how surely we would cut our feet of slackness, idleness and incompetence be routed.

Repentant Patsy.

Minnie and her little dog, Patsy, were playing in the kitchen. Minnie's mother was cooking supper and scolded over Patsy, causing her to jump on an egg on the freshly scrubbed floor. She put Patsy out on the porch and sent Minnie in a corner. In a few moments Patsy scratched on the door and began barking. Minnie said to her mother: "Mamma, can Patsy come in now? He's sorry. Don't you hear him 'poloizing'?"

Things Evened Up.

Little Minkie came from kindergarten with a little neighbor girl who had to public school. He calls her his sweetheart. So the other day his big brother said to Robbie: "You, Bob, she's too big to be your sweetheart." But Robbie met the proposition thus: "Her hands higher than mine, but her feet ain't."

"Garden Sass".

The national war garden commission reports that $525,000,000 worth of food was produced on back yard lots last year.

This means a reduction in the cost of food which the families cultivating these gardens would otherwise have purchased. Not only that, but the vegetables raised in these gardens come to the table fresher and of better quality than vegetables purchased any day.

Many people who made gardens at a market or store could possibly last year because the government requested it found pleasure enough in the garden work and profit enough in the results to encourage them in keeping up the garden habit.

We welcome the Back-yard Garden as a permanent national institution.

Great Britain's largest airship is waiting to fly.

Everything was ready to launch her at Shillby, York-shire, but almost at the moment the shed gates were to open adverse weather reports were read by wireless and it was decided to postpone the trial.

Whether or not the airship will attempt a transatlantic flight is for the Air Ministry to decide, but experts say she is capable of the flight. Although she weighs thirty tons, she has a lifting capacity of an additional thirty tons.

Speed of possibly eighty miles an hour is expected and, in that event, New York could be reached in less than two days.

FEED BOXES AND HAY RACKS

Faulty Construction Cause of Animals Not Getting Feed Intended for Them.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In many instances animals do not get the feed actually intended for them, due to improper and faulty construction of boxes and hay racks. Many feed boxes are so shallow and small that much feed is wasted as the animals eat from them. In order to prevent this waste the feed boxes should be repaired. They should be at least 18 inches wide and 24 inches long and 12 to 14 inches deep. It is often advisable to feed the concentrates with silage to prevent waste.

Hay racks should be constructed to prevent animals from tossing or pulling hay under their feet. All hay racks should have a tight bottom to prevent the loss of leaves and finer portions of hay. The leaves of hay, especially of the legumes, contain most of the protein and are, therefore, that part of the roughage which the animals need. A few hours work in repairing boxes and hay racks, and at a very small cost, will result in saving sufficient feed to maintain the animals in a satisfactory condition.

FOLLOW DEFINITE SYSTEM IN LOCATING TROUBLE WITH GAS ENGINE OF ANY KIND

Gas Engine Used to Pump Water—This is a Homemade Outfit, Mower Wheel Being Used.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Everyone who operates a gas engine of any kind should learn first to stop and reason as to the probable cause of any trouble which develops.

In most cases where an engine stops, loses power, or indulges in some other irregularity, some indication of the cause will be apparent to anyone familiar with the outfit if he studies the problem intelligently. Such study will enable one to avoid tinkering with parts that are working properly. Even should the cause of trouble not be apparent after a little reasoning, no attempt should be made to locate it by a general change of adjustment or tinkering done in a haphazard way, as this method will add to the trouble.

Follow a Definite System.
Not only will this go far toward insuring success in locating the trouble, but it will, in nearly every case, save time, for unless the trouble is a very unusual one it will be located in one going over. Practically all experienced operators, in hunting for the source of trouble with gas engines, follow, whether conscious or not, a more or less uniform system of tests. Just what order these tests should take will depend upon the particular make and type of engine; the tests which can be made more quickly and easily should, of course, be made first. From the points mentioned in the following statement it is believed that any operator who does not already employ such a system can readily devise one which will be best suited to his particular engine.

Starting Troubles.

Always bear in mind that for a gas engine to run it is necessary to have a compressed mixture of vaporized fuel (generally gasoline or kerosene) and air in proper proportions, which is exploded by a hot spark while the mixture is under compression. The spark should occur slightly before full compression, except in starting, when it should occur just after full compression has passed.

When an engine refuses to start, the trouble will, with a very few exceptions, be due to some interruption of the supply of the proper mixture of gas and air, or to a failure of the electrical system which furnishes the spark to fire the compressed mixture. It seldom happens that both systems are at fault at the same time, so the first thing to do is to find out whether one of these systems has ceased to work properly.

The ignition system, on the whole, is more often the cause of trouble than is the fuel system, and it is usually advisable to test this first unless, on account of the construction of the particular engine in question, it is easier to make tests for troubles with the mixture supply.

GOOD SORGHUM SEED GREATLY IN DEMAND

Some Extra Money Can Be Realized by Farmers.

Important to Keep Varieties to Be Used for Strup Production From Mixing With Others—Use Care in Storing Seed Heads.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Good, pure, viable seed of sorgo or sweet sorghum has been greatly in demand the last two years and a little extra money can be realized by farmers in the sorghum belt if they will save the seed from their fodder and strup sorghum varieties, especially if they have pure strains of such standard varieties as black number, red number, orange, sunnys, honey, and popcorn.

In addition to the demand for seed of these varieties for fodder and strup production there is a limited demand by strup producers for the seed of such varieties as Colman, Red X, Collier, and McLean. The average farmer, however, who is growing the sorgo primarily for forage purposes had best confine himself to some one of the first-named varieties.

The importance of keeping the varieties to be used for strup production from mixing with other varieties is strongly emphasized. The sweet varieties from which seed for future planting is to be gathered should not be grown near any other strup or fodder variety. Even then the seed heads should be carefully selected with a view to truthness of type or variety.

With fodder varieties one can go into a field of shocked fodder and gather the seed in paying quantities by cutting with a knife the heads from the bundles or from the individual stalks. If the fodder has not been shocked, the heads can be thrown in piles at the base of the shock, after the practice followed in husking corn from the shock, but this entails considerable waste and it is better to take a team and wagon into the field and throw the heads directly into the wagon box. If the field has been properly rogued and has ripened uniformly it is more economical for two men to work together and by means of a chopping block attached to the wagon box separate the heads from an entire hunk at one stroke.

The gathered heads should not be stacked in the field, but hauled into the farmyard and piled in long, narrow ricks in an open shed. Care must be used in storing the heads. Unless they are thoroughly dry when gathered large quantities thrown together in a crib or bin are likely to heat and thus seriously impair their germinating power. The piles of heads should be examined at least every two weeks, and if any signs of heat develop they should be turned with forks to forestall all damage. Where an open shed is not available for the protection of the ricked heads they may be piled in the open and covered with a tarpaulin or with bundles of fodder until they can be thrashed.

Allowing seed designed to be used for planting purposes to be wet by every rain and snow which comes is treacherous even where wet periods are infrequent and the total amount of moisture likely to be small. Seed intended to be used for feeding purposes will not be injured to any considerable extent by a small amount of moisture, but wet seed, especially during a season when freezing temperatures prevail, will be rendered almost worthless for planting. Freezing temperatures do little injury to dry seed.

FARM BUREAU IDEA SPREADS

Canada and Australia Ask Information on Plan of Work—Is Increasing in Scope.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Inquiries have been received by the United States department of agriculture from Canada and Australia for full particulars regarding the organization and operation of farm bureaus in the United States, indicating that interest in the plan of work in no longer confined to our own country, but that other countries are eager to adopt a similar type of organization.

The farm bureau is not only an organization to aid the work of the county agent, but is becoming the official agency, or institution, educational in character, for co-operating with the state and nation in meeting agricultural needs, and in planning, administering and directing all phases of extension work in agriculture and home economics in the country.

LAW OF FOOD CONSERVATION

To Turn Inedible Feeds Into Edible Foods Is Great Aim—Dairy Cow Is Efficient.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One great law of food conservation is to turn inedible feeds into edible foods in the cheapest possible manner. The dairy cow will utilize coarse materials, inedible by humans, such as grass, corn-stalks, and hay, and will turn them into milk, which is suitable for human food. Other farm animals are converters of coarse roughage into edible foods, but are not so efficient as the dairy cow.

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver.

It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if a healthy condition is to be avoided or overcome.

The fact also explains why persons who indulge in rich, fatty, greasy, and indigestible food, and who eat a few meals of this from habit, nervousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering afterward, if you are constipated, have bilious spells, headaches, vertigo, indigestion, variable appetite, are nervous, losing energy and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets right today and start taking it.

PAY AND FILE INCOME TAX BEFORE MAR. 15

U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau
Gives Warning That Severe
Penalties Will Be Enforced.

WOMEN WITHIN LAW'S SCOPE; HOW THEY REPORT INCOME

The Income Tax drive comes to a close on Saturday night, March 15. All payments and returns due on that date under the provisions of the new Revenue Law must be in the hands of local Internal Revenue Collectors before their offices close that night.

The Income Tax is being collected to meet the war expenses. Every person who shirked and dodged his share of the tax is now called upon to contribute his share of the cost of winning the war.

The laggards and the dodgers will face severe fines and jail sentences. The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that its officers will check up all up to see that every person who comes within the scope of the Income Tax law did his share.

Where to Pay and File.

Residents of Kentucky should make their returns and pay their taxes to the nearest of the following: Josh T. Griffith, Owensboro; J. Rogers Gore, Louisville; Charlton B. Thompson, Covington; Edwood Hamilton, Lexington; John W. Hughes, Louisville.

Payments sent by mail should be attached to the returns and should be in the form of check, money order or draft. Cash payments by mail are sent at the taxpayer's risk of loss.

If you are unable to make your return personally because of illness, absence or incapacity, an agent or legal representative may make your return.

If there are any doubtful points as to your items of income or allowable deductions, you should get in touch at once with a Revenue officer or a banker or for advice.

Women Pay Tax.

Women are subject to all the requirements of the Income Tax. Whether single or married, a woman's income from all sources must be considered.

If unmarried or if living apart from her husband she must make her return for 1918 if her net income was $1,000 or over.

If married and living with her husband her income must be considered with the husband's in determining the liability for a return. Their joint income, less the credits allowed by law, is subject to normal tax. The wife's net income is considered separately in computing any surtax that may be due. Husband and wife file jointly, as a rule. If the husband does not include his wife's income in his return the wife must file a separate return.

Severe Penalties.

The new Revenue Law places severe penalties on a person who fails to make return on time, refuses to make return or renders a fraudulent return. For failure to make return and pay tax on time a fine of not more than $1,000 is imposed and 25 per cent of the tax due is added to the assessment. For refusing willfully to make return or for making a false or fraudulent return there is a fine of not exceeding $10,000 and imprisonment of not exceeding one year, or both.

Farmers' Income Taxable.

Every farmer and ranchman who had a fair or a good year in 1918 must head the Income Tax this year. He must consider all his income as taxable. He is entitled to deduct from his gross income all amounts expended in carrying on his farm. The cost of farm machinery, farm buildings and improvements cannot be deducted. The cost of live stock, either for resale or for breeding purposes, is also regarded as investment.

Overtime and Bonuses Taxed.

Salary and wage earners must consider as taxable every item received from employers and from other sources. Bonuses and overtime pay are to be reported as well as the regular payments.

Allowances for Losses.

Losses sustained in 1918 and not covered by insurance are deductible items if incurred in the taxpayer's business or trade, in any transaction undertaken for profit or arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty or from theft.

SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERY INCOME TAX PAYER.

Washington, D. C. — "The rights of all persons now filing Income Tax returns are amply protected by provisions for exemptions, refunds and appeals," says Commissioner Daniel C. Roper.

"Every person can be sure of a square deal. No person is expected to pay more than his share of tax. His share is determined solely by the amount and nature of his net income for 1918, as defined in the law."

"Abatement petitions are dealt with openly and fairly. Refunds will be made in every case where too much tax is erroneously collected."

"The Income Tax is 'on the level' all the way through."

SMOKING TOBACCO FACTS FROM THE ENCYCLOPAEDIA

The Use of Flavorings Determines Difference in Brands

The Encyclopedia Britannica says about the manufacture of smoking tobacco: "...on the Continent and in America, certain 'sauces' are employed...the use of the 'sauces' is to improve the flavor and burning qualities of the leaves." Which indicates that a smoker's enjoyment depends as much upon the flavoring used as upon the tobacco.

Your nose is a sure guide in the matter of flavorings. Try this simple test with several tobacco brands: pour some tobacco into your palm, rub briskly, and smell. You will notice a distinct difference in the fragrance of every brand. The tobacco that smells best to you will smoke best in your pipe, you can rest assured.

Carefully aged, old Burley tobacco, plus a dash of pure chocolate, gives TUXEDO Tobacco a pure fragrance your nose can quickly distinguish from any other tobacco. Try it and see.

Keep the Children Well

To keep the little ones well, sturdy and happy, free of coughs, colds, croup, little fevers and inflamed throats, use

Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is carefully made of selected remedies that loosen and break up a cough, stop croup and ease an aching inflamed throat, and it is clean of all narcotics. The prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar is very helpful for whooping cough, and the restless feverish state that attends children's diseases.

M. T. Davis, Beantown, W. Va., writes:—"One of my prettiest had a small child taken with croup. They came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and before morning the child was entirely recovered."

WHAT A NIGHT!

By LINCOLN ROTHBLUM.

It was the coldest night Boston had had in many years. Two days' snow-fall, accompanied by a fresh blizzard sweeping down from Newfoundland, had buried the entire city in a heavy blanket of white. It was but nine o'clock this Saturday night, and the elements, unrestrained, played at will in the empty streets.

Doris, wrapped up in a bathrobe of eunuen-colored corduroy, pushed the hassock closer to the fire and snuggled in the comfortable warmth of the burning logs.

"Just a year ago tonight," she murmured dreamily, "but it was not so cold."

"Come, sis," remonstrated a comely lad of sixteen, who squatted Indian fashion, close by her, "you mustn't always figure how long it is since that day. I'm big enough to know what men do, and I'll bet my new rifle Stanley Chalmers didn't no coward. What'll you bet?"

The boy extended his cramped legs, and crouching them up before him, clasped his hands about his knees. He knew he would again hear the entire account of why his sister broke her engagement with Stanley Chalmers, and he wanted to be comfortable during the recital.

"It was not so odd as it is tonight," Doris began, as if reciting a well-learned lesson, "when we turned the corner of Dorchester and Saxton streets. He had just been telling me he would protect me from all ill, when a horrible-looking fellow bumped into me and swore out a terrible oath. I surely expected Stanley would knock him down, but all he did was grab my arm and hustle me off."

"When we got home," she continued, pulling the bathrobe closer about her, "you were in the hall and heard me tell him I could never marry a coward."

"Aw, I guess I'll get some more wood," Bob answered practically, and in an effort to change the subject, "the fire's dying down."

In a few moments Bob returned from the kitchen, his arms laden with roughly chopped pine boughs. As he crossed the threshold between the two rooms and stopped to adjust his burden, from the upper regions of the house a terrible crash reverberated. The wood dropped from his arms and he dashed across the room swiftly to his sister.

"What is it?" his lips formed the words his voice refused to utter.

"We must see who it is," she whispered, thoroughly frightened, and grasped the rod used to stir up the embers.

They must get help. With a dash through the short hall, they threw open the porch door. Doris' shrill call was lost in the shrieks of the wind.

What went there? Was that a man, bucking the gale? Was that figure enveloped in a great coat a real man—sent by Providence to help them in their predicament? Would he pass their house? Did he not hear them?

"Help! Help!" they called out in unison, "we're being robbed! There's a murderer upstairs! Help!"

The man did hear. He was turning. He was coming towards them. As he vaulted the low stoop, Bob pointed, "Upstairs."

He cleared the first three steps with a single bound, leaving the poker Doris mutely held out. "Better that than nothing," she subconsciously thought, and followed up in his wake.

Into one bedroom and then the other he cast the glare of his pocket flashlight. Under the beds and in the closets, no corner escaped his rigid inspection. And then into the bathroom.

The door stubbornly refused to open. Someone was holding it. They entered the bathroom and the door banged tight as the flashlight went out.

Alone in a dark bathroom with a strange man and a burglar!

What a night!

Doris screamed.

The man located the electric switch and light filled the room. A slight strain against the opposite wall brought them about face on the defensive. And they saw—an extension lamp to the dining-room table slip from its moorings and join its mate at the bottom of the bathtub in a crash of embrace.

The man laughed. Doris sank to the floor. He assisted her down the stairway, where Bob sat in frightened suspense. In a few moments she was composed.

"That we found no burglar does not lessen my gratitude, Mr.—"

The man lowered the high collar closely concealing his head.

"Stanley!" Doris gasped.

"Didn't I tell you he was brave?" yelled Bob, pulling the hero toward the fire.

And as they gathered about its comforting warmth, Doris looked up into eyes of soft brown and gently asked: "But, Stan, won't you explain about a year ago?"

The man squared his shoulders. "I knew that the fellow wouldn't hurt you, for he was only drunk. But I didn't want to embarrass you by the crowd that would have gathered had I struck him."

"Why didn't you tell me all this before?"

"You never gave me the chance to explain. You just judged me."

Doris hung her head in contrition.

"Forgive me, Stan," she whispered, and as she sought the comfort of his protecting arms, naively added: "Can't you see I'm catching cold without my ring?"

The Serpent's Tail.

Since your earliest childhood's memory you've believed that the snake's tail never dies until the sun goes down.

And you know that it wiggles a long time after the serpent has been put out of the way of doing further harm.

For you've killed a snake and you've watched the antics of his tail.

Uncle Sam has killed Prussianism but the tail still wriggles. The tail that is the outgrowth of all that monarchy stood for; the extortion, the oppression, the cruelties and wrong of long years' standing.

Just now it is manifesting itself in the form of Bolshevism.

It has outgrown the snake itself in Russia and has twined itself around the throats of a helpless people. It is gradually infolding Germany in its coils.

It's trying to stretch across the sea to America.

And America wants none of it; will have none of it.

If necessary Uncle Sam will put a foot on that tail until the sun goes down.

But there's an easier way. Just keep the wheels moving, the industries active, business good, finances easy, and general prosperity in the middle looking along.

Just finance peace as you financed war.

So long as jobs are plentiful, wages good, and work steady there is no man under the sun as tractable as the average American. No man so well satisfied. No man so entirely content with his country and all it offers.

Uncle Sam wants to provide all of these things. Right now he is hard pressed to meet the requirements. He owes a large sum to American industries, every one of which needs its money in order to readjust its affairs to a peace basis and insure a quick industrial revival.

Much of this must come out of the next Victory-Liberty Loan.

So get ready to help Uncle Sam help American prosperity.

And crush the life out of Bolshevism utterly.

Prepare for the next loan.

Our philosopher says: Huddle your farm so's when you've got to leave it behind you, nobody'll say anything hard about you.

WANTED-AT ONCE!

Five hundred thousand new houses needed at once within the boundaries of the United States!

So the Department of Labor tells us, and if we only study the conditions at home and realize that they are similar throughout the country, we shall be inclined to trust to the accuracy of its statement.

Houses are not to be had. Inquiries for them either for purchase or rent meet with disappointment. The restriction of building during the war has of course played a great part in producing this scarcity of homes.

A shortage of houses is to be regretted for several reasons. It means congestion. Where two families are living in quarters which are by rights only sufficient for one, there is inevitably crowding enough to affect the conditions of life more or less unfavorably.

Also, if a small town has only houses enough for its present inhabitants there is no possibility of further growth. New residents, however satisfactory they might be as citizens, simply cannot be accommodated.

Men who have capital or can arrange for the use of it should wake up to conditions and realize that the present is an excellent time for building.

In the first place, the greatest necessity of the country just now is work for the returned soldiers and sailors. Building will furnish this.

In the second place, building would be an act of public spirit, supplying the builder's home town with the houses required for its progress and growth.

Lastly, the demand for houses shows that well built homes will prove an excellent investment for the builder. Houses to rent will be an assured source of income. And the sale of houses upon easy monthly payments is a most satisfactory plan. A town which has these to offer can secure a fine class of thrifty, prudent citizens, who as they are property-holders, will be interested in their homes and surroundings.

Local banks should see their interests in financing builders where necessary. It is to be hoped that as the season progresses, we shall see a good class of homes going up in Lancaster, such as will reflect credit upon the town and bring profit to the builders.

Rugby Football.

At the famous school of Rugby, England originated that form of football, now bearing the name of the school. An Englishman at Rugby reads: "This book commemorates the exploit of William Webb Ellis, who, with a fine regard for the rules of football, as passed in his time, first took the ball in his arms and ran with it, thus originating the distinctive feature of the game. Throughout South America French is almost universally read; editions of the classics are in most homes, and book stores are filled with modern French writers of prose or verse, both in translation and in the original.

Environment Counts.

It is well to remember that environment has much to do with achievement. Associate only with those who are full of enthusiasm and determined to succeed. Keep close to people who encourage you. Create peace in the home. Make of it a harbor of refuge, a means of escape from a work-a-day world. If you will do this, you will soon find yourself well on the road to success.—Fern Howard.

Afghan Music.

The Afghans have a penchant for musical instruments, and the wealthier classes import some costly makes, though occasionally their manner of using them is somewhat startling. An Afghan nobleman sent for a grand piano, and had all the lower part cut off, as he found it most convenient to play it squatting on the floor.

DEMOBILIZATION CONFERENCE.
To Be Held Here Next Thursday and Friday

A meeting of unusual importance was held at the Lancaster High School building yesterday when plans were formulated for a Demobilization Conference which is to be held in the school auditorium next Thursday and Friday. Messrs. H. S. Hubson, E. D. Falmeter and C. H. Strother and Messrs. A. D. Joseph, W. A. Wheeler, P. H. Hopkins and Mrs. Ed C. Gaines and Mrs. Harry Hudson were present.

Mr. John M. Farra is instructed to invite every discharged soldier in the county; Mr. Moorman is to notify all the ministers; Prof. Hopkins is to see that all the teachers of the county attend; Mrs. Gaines the members of the Woman's Club; while Messrs. Wheeler and Joseph are to see that the meeting is thoroughly advertised over the county.

Speakers of prominence and ability will attend among them being Rev. Green, of Richmond, Dean John L. Hill, of Georgetown, and Messrs. Wilcox and Owens, Y. M. C. A. workers. Mr. Karl P. Zerfass, district Secretary, of the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the meeting.

The Kentucky State Conference, on After the War Problems, as related to the soldier and sailor and to the community was held in Louisville Feb. 17-22 when 150 delegates from the state at large were present. There were lawyers, doctors, merchants, teachers, insurance men, ministers and others present. The principal addresses were made by Dr. E. Y. Mullins and Rev. Danbar Ogden, both of Louisville. The delegates then discussed the various problems which came up because of the war and of how the community and the returned soldier could best work together for a better community life at home and how he could help the church, school and play life of the home town and community.

This plan is under the direction of the War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. and it is their plan to have a State conference like the one at Louisville held in every State in the Union and since Kentucky has had her conference she has in turn planned to have a smaller conference of the same nature in every county in the State. Several of these conferences have already been held, at Ashland, Shelbyville, Irving, Grayson and other places. Rev. O. G. Green of Richmond was at the Louisville Conference planning a big one for Madison county to be held at Richmond the 8-9 of April.

The Garrard County Conference will be held at Lancaster March 20th beginning at 8:00 P. M. and will continue until on March 21 at 2:30 P. M. This conference is for the city and county people and all people who are interested in after the war problems and in community spirit should attend. It is planned to bring here several outside men to help with the work. It is hoped that at least one excellent speaker will be here for the night address. There will be some time given to a discussion of Soldier's and Sailor's Insurance and to the program of the United States Employment Service and of their efforts in this section. Such addresses as the following will be given and then discussed by the people: "What contribution can the returned soldier and sailor make to the Civil, Economic, Industrial, Educational, Recreative and Religious needs of our community and county."

Simpson-Hardwick

The marriage of Mr. Cronley Hardwick, aged 29, and Miss Nellie H. Simpson, aged 16, both of this county took place last Saturday, March 1st, at the home of Rev. Edmister, that gentleman officiating.

On their return home they were given a dinner by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardwick.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Ditsy Simpson, and is a charming young lady.

Their many friends wish them a long and prosperous journey through life.

Clouse-Crow.

Miss Lucie Clouse of this county, and Mr. Buford Crow of Jessamine county, surprised their many friends on March 1st, by shipping away to Nicholasville, where they were quietly married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Peel pastor of the Christian church, immediately after the marriage they returned to the groom's home where they were entertained at dinner by a host of friends and relatives.

The bride looked beautiful in a pretty green silk dress with coat and hat to match. She is eighteen years of age and is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Clouse. She is very industrious. The groom is twenty years of age, and a very prosperous farmer of Jessamine county.

The best wishes of a host of friends are extended to this happy and popular young couple.

Called To Bethel.

Rev. J. W. Mahan, of Garrard county, has been called to the pastorate of the Bethel Baptist church and will preach there the first and third Sundays at the morning and evening service. Rev. Mahan recently accepted a call to the Salvisa Baptist church, and will serve as pastor of both congregations. He will move his family to the Salvisa parsonage this week.—Harrodsburg Herald.

FARM LANDS Greatly Increased.

The great increase in value of farm land in all parts of Kentucky during the last year has put the average price of all improved land in the state up to $81.00 an acre and unimproved land up to $61.00 an acre. This includes all sections of the state and all farm land, good, bad and indifferent, some of which could hardly be classed as real farm land. The average value of all tillable land in the state, good and bad, is $61.00 compared to $59.00 a year ago.

In the choice sections of the Blue Grass and of Western Kentucky the values have soared to very high prices. This is due not only to the great general increase of prices for all farm products, but particularly to the enormous prices for tobacco, especially burley. In this the Blue Grass farmers have for the present run ahead of the dark tobacco growers of Western Kentucky, but the question now is whether or not the market will stand next year at high prices or will break and sink back to low levels under the pressure of the enormous acreage that seems sure to be planted this season in the burley belt. In Western Kentucky prices for dark tobacco have not been so satisfactory for the farmers, although higher than in former years.

Judging Others.

We cannot judge our fellow men without in some measure judging ourselves. We are always inwardly judging others, and by that very act we are forming a code for ourselves. The wrong we see in another may be the sin of his ignorance, but there can be no life excuse for us who have recognized and labeled it.

Warning Had Effect.

Helen is sensible when teased about her hair. After patiently listening to her playmates' taunts for several minutes, she became angry and stamped her small foot, and loudly informed them: "I know I've got red hair and I've got a bad temper to match with it, too. You better 'member that." Helen isn't teased any more.

ECONOMICAL MEAT DISHES.

EAT may be made to go twice as far in serving and the dish still be as valuable from a nutritive standpoint.

Serbian Rice.—Wipe with a dampened cloth a piece of meat from the shoulder, cut in thin squares. Heat a frying pan, add a tablespoonful of any sweet fat, and one small onion and a third of a carrot, both sliced. Put over the heat with the meat, a tablespoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of paprika, and cook over a slow fire. When half cooked add a pint of water and a half cupful of rice, adding more water as needed. Add more seasoning if needed before serving.

Mutton Stew.—Take a piece of mutton from the neck, cut in small pieces and put to cook with a sprig of parsley, a bay leaf, two cloves, two peppercorns and water to nearly cover the meat. Let simmer about two hours, then add a carrot or two, cut in fancy slices; add six potatoes, cut in thick slices, a cupful of tomatoes, and simmer until the meat and vegetables are tender. Remove the bay leaf and the parsley and serve. The objectionable flavor, the woolly taste, is in the pink skin on which the wool grows. If this skin is removed the stew will be more delicate.

Liver à la Mme. Begone.—Take a half pound of calf's liver, cut in thin slices. Lay the liver in salted water while peeling five large onions, slice in thin slices and cut in halves. Dry the liver and place it in layers with the onion. Let stand for an hour, then cut the liver in cubes, dredge with flour and season with salt and pepper. Dredge the onions in the same way, they fry all in a frying basket until well cooked, the onions a golden brown. Pile the liver in the center of the platter and garnish with a ring of onions.

Hamburg Steak.—Make a mound of the chopped seasoned meat, adding a pinch of cloves and a bit of grated onion, with the salt and pepper for seasoning, and cover the top with lard strips of salt pork, arranging them carefully, then bake. Remove to a hot platter and garnish with parsley. Serve with mushroom sauce.

Mrs. Roosevelt Visits Grave Of Her Son.

Paris, France.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, accompanied by her son, Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., visited the grave of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, near Fere-en-Tardenois and placed flowers on the simple monument which marks her son's last resting place. The grave is being carefully tended by the inhabitants of the locality.

Curbstone Reportee.

A colored citizen sauntering down from the square to the post office, accented an acquaintance of color sunning himself against the brick wall of the bank building. "Hi, cant yer find nothin' to do? Done got all yer work behind yer, ain't yer?" "Jadin' to his 'holding up the wall' with his back. But seeing it was sunny and comfortable he sented himself beside his friend. A man who had overheard the greeting remarked in passing, "Well, Bill you've put all your work behind you too". "Yes, Boss, I'm all right. I've got the Citizens National Bank backin' me".

Law of Compensation.

The law of compensation is, even in these wonderful modern days, very much in evidence. Most of us—in fact, all of us—receive from the world just what we give to it. Sinners and happy souls will fall from other lips to us if we are too busy or too "big" to notice these little courtesies we need not be surprised to see only sin on the faces we meet.

Lest Ye Forget, Test.

The seed corn situation of last year forced many farmers to test their seed. That it paid is plainly shown by the fact that the farmers in Western Kentucky sold $241,426.50 worth of seed corn to farmers in other portions of the State. In other words, the majority of the farmers by testing knew whether their own corn was fit to plant or not.

If it paid so well last year, it will always pay a reasonable profit. Every farmer should test all the seed he expects to plant again this season. It is merely the saving of time and labor by the use of brains. Brains properly used always pay big dividends both in money, time and satisfaction.

Preserve Apples.

Take dry sand which has been heated and cooled again. Cover the bottom of a stone jar with sand, put in one layer of apples, having the fruit about one-half inch apart, cover with sand, put in another layer of apples, and so on till the jar is full. The jar must be closed airtight and kept in a cool place. The sand will keep the apples dry and preserve the flavor.

White Paper.

The white paper of which newspapers are made is 98 per cent spruce wood that has been reduced to a pulp and then converted into paper. No other wood is as available for this purpose and in making newspapers, cardboard and other papers and many products this country consumes 200,000 cords of spruce wood yearly.

Testing Pleurisy With Coins.

A novel method of diagnosing pleurisy is described by P. Lereboullet in the Paris Medical. The examiner applies his ear to the patient's chest, closing his other ear, while coins are clinked at the patient's back. The sound of the coins coming through a healthy, normally-aerated lung seems distant and dull, while through an affected lung, through solid or homogeneous tissue, a clear, silvery, metallic ring is heard.

Day of Quill Pen Gone.

True or false it is to say that times change and the manners with them. Although the habit of carrying the pen behind the ear has not altogether disappeared in this day of the fountain pen, typewriter machine and other similar devices, the quill pen, so far as the present generation goes, is now more of an adjunct of romance, stage settings and motion pictures. The fountain pen does not lend much artistic atmosphere to such as these.

JUDGE MABRY DIES.

The death of Judge Milton H. Mabry, who died at his home in Tampa, Florida, on March 3rd, will be heard with deep regret by friends who were fortunate to meet him while the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Price a few years ago. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Price and is survived by his wife and six children.

The Tampa Tribune has the following concerning his death:

"Judge Milton Mabry, for years one of the most prominent attorneys and politicians of the state, died yesterday noon at his residence, No. 310 Fielding avenue, following a protracted illness. Although he had been in failing health for the past few years he was confined to his bed only one week.

Judge Mabry was born in Pickens county, Alabama, June 17, 1851, and received his LL.B. degree at the University of Mississippi, and was also a student at the Lebanon Law School in Tennessee, graduating from the school in 1872. He began the practice of law at Tupelo, Miss., in 1872, where he was very successful. He came to Florida in 1879, settling in Leesburg, where he opened a law office in partnership with W. A. Hoeker, who, like Mr. Mabry, later became a supreme court justice. He was elected in 1883 as a member of the state house of representatives from Lake county and in 1884 became lieutenant-governor of the state, retaining that office until 1888, when it was done away with. Mr. Mabry resumed the practice of law at the expiration of his term as lieutenant-governor and in 1891 was appointed justice of the state supreme court, which office he held until 1903. A few years later he was back at Tallahassee in the capacity of clerk of the supreme court, a position which he filled with signal ability.

Due to declining health, Mr. Mabry retired from active work about four years ago and moved to Tampa, after a very active career at Tallahassee.

Judge Mabry was a commanding figure, both in his chosen profession of law, as a state official, a judge of the state's highest court. His counsel was much sought in important matters. He was among the state's chiefest citizens for a generation and numbered his friends and admirers by the thousands."

MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR FARM WOODLAND

War Has Brought Matter Directly to Attention of Farmer.

Poor Species of Trees Should Be Gradually Eliminated and Openings Filled—Consideration Will Bring Returns.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The various demands which the war made upon the farm woodlands in the way of wood fuel, walnut for gunstocks and airplane propellers, locust for tree-nails, oak and hickory for vehicle construction and other purposes, to say nothing of the numerous lesser demands, have brought woodlands more directly to the attention of farmers than ever before. During the next month or so farmers should decide definitely what land is to be kept in woods and what is to be cleared for farm purposes. On many farms there are small areas unprofitable for farm purposes which should be reforested as soon as the price of nursery stock and labor becomes normal. Now is the time to make the plans for the future, laying out with the assistance of the county agent a program of woodland improvement which shall have for its object the growing on the land available of the greatest possible amount of the most valuable or most rapid-growing trees. Then, as time and labor become available, the plans can be carried out. The poorer species of trees should be gradually eliminated and openings in the woodland filled in just as the farmer replants the failed place in his cornfield. A few days spent now in carefully considering these subjects will bring ample returns in the future.

Fine Stand of Young White Oaks.

USE MOST PRODUCTIVE LAND

Every Acre Planted Should Be Put Into Condition to Yield Well—Prices Are High.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
The food and feed program for this year is much the same as in 1918. Then it was pointed out that on account of the scarcity and high price of labor, the high prices of everything that went into the making of a crop, and the necessity for a full harvest, the farmer's efforts should be concentrated on his most productive land. That policy brought the biggest returns under war conditions. The same plan should be pursued this year. Prices for everything that goes into making the crop are still on a war basis, consequently every acre planted should be put into condition to yield well. It is no time to endeavor to improve the poorest fields. That should be deferred until the prices of labor and fertilizer again become normal. It will then be most profitable if done as a supplement to farming better land. This year every stroke of work should be made to count on the best land of each farm, so that good yields may offset the high expense of putting in the crops this spring.

SEED TREATMENT AIDS OATS

As Result of Efforts of Farmers and County Agents Million More Acres Seeded.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
More than 50,000 farmers co-operated with the agricultural county agents last year in the 33 northern and western states in treating seed oats for smut. Their efforts resulted in more than 1,000,000 additional acres of oats being sown with treated seed. Based on reports made the previous year the results of this work increased the yield an average of about four bushels an acre, and this increase was brought about in most cases at a cost of less than ten cents an acre.

IS A HUMAN LIFE Worth 17 Cents A Day To You?

Are you willing to spend 17 cents a day to save a human life?

There is a cry coming to America from across the seas that cannot be ignored. It is the cry of dying women and children, yearning to live, stretching their withered arms toward you for help, straining their shrunken lips in an effort to make you hear their appeal, watching for your decision with saddened eyes that never smile, eyes that will soon close in death unless YOU send aid.

Don't let your conscience haunt you in the future with the fact that some life was lost because you refused to save it. Face this issue squarely with yourself NOW. Is a human life worth 17 cents a day? If it is, then save it.

Seventeen cents a day will furnish food sufficient to sustain life of one of the victims one day; $5 will take care of the victim for a month and $60 will furnish sufficient food to sustain life for a year.

The defeat of the Turk armies and their elimination from the war prevented the murder of the 4,000,000 victims who are now appealing for help. They must be fed, clothed and sent home to re-establish some semblance of a nation from the pitiable wreckage of human life that remains.

Are you going to be one of those who will help them? Or will you let it be said that you were appealed to, to save a human life, but refused? Every time you spend 17 cents for something you don't need, remember that one of those starving women and children in the Near East is deprived of life by your act.

Give and give generously until the fund is raised. The stricken nations of Europe cannot help. The saving of these lives depends upon America. The entire country is asked to raise $30,000,000. Every cent paid in goes toward the relief of the starving 4,000,000. All expenses of the campaign and even of enabling the credit for the purchase of food and its distribution is paid for by a special fund already contributed by public-spirited citizens. Money, War Savings stamps, War Thrift Stamps, and Liberty Bonds will be gladly received for the purpose of purchasing food and clothing for the victims of Turkish violence.

The campaign has received the hearty endorsement of President Wilson, who before he left for Europe issued a proclamation in which he appealed to the American people to respond for this humanity fund.

WANT $300,000 FOR ARMENIANS Proposed Protectorate Will Not Help Starving Syrian People.

Local and State leaders in the campaign to raise $300,000 in this State for Armenian and Syrian relief work are of the opinion that the possibility of an American protectorate for Armenia will not lessen the need for relief work from private sources, such as is being done with the funds raised in the United States through the medium of the campaign which has been in progress since the middle of January.

A number of counties have completed their drives and have reached or passed their quotas, but in many counties the drive will not be made until some time this month. Miss Beth Higgins, State Campaign Director recently stated that prospects for ultimate success for the campaign, in this State become brighter every day. Kentucky is now probably at the $70,000 mark on the way to its goal, and glorious records have been made in many parts of the State, especially Boyd and Nelson counties.

An idea of the conditions which the funds being raised in America will alleviate is conveyed in the following account of conditions in the Near East, received by the National Campaign headquarters in New York from a relief worker, and relayed to the State headquarters here:

"We arrived in Beirut a week ago today. The want is appalling. Our towels, sheets, table linen, bedsteads are taken by the relief committee and our clothing by the community. Hundreds of people have sold the last bit of furniture and the last salable rags from their bodies and then burned the timbers from their roofs for fuel. These short sentences are not intended as a description, but simply as a sidelight on the conditions.

"The famine has increased in strength with every year of the war, so that now many villages have been entirely depopulated and others have only a small fraction of their former population. There was a terrible commentary on Old Testament famine stories when some women here were found to have hired several children to their homes, killed them, eaten their flesh and then boiled their fat and sold it on the market. The bodies of the friendless poor who died in the streets were too many for the authorities to bury, so at first they threw the bodies into the river to be carried into the sea. Later they collected them into the empty houses and sent a cart every day or two to carry the corpses off to the sands.

"Conditions everywhere we have found to be very bad. In Beirut half of the people have died in the last eighteen months. One house, where a poor widow lived with her remaining child, was found to contain a portion of an old rotten door in one corner. This was bed, bedding, table, furniture and all. Half of the floor was a sea of mud, and the woman herself was busy trying to pry off the shutters from the window which was to the southeast, the direction of the prevailing winds. She wanted to sell the shutters to get a few pasters to buy food and remarked 'Of what use is a house if we have no food to keep us alive?' In another village every man was dead except one, and outside. Everywhere the greatest mortality was among the men, who seemed less able to stand the lack of food and easily fell prey to various diseases, especially cholera and typhus fever.

"Our teacher in Damour reports that one man ate three boys; that a woman ate the meat of a camel three days dead, and that 4,000 of the 5,000 inhabitants of that wealthy silk manufacturing town had died. Cannibalism was also resorted to, on a small scale. In Sidon and Tripoli cats and dogs were eaten.

AMERICA CAN HELP.

"Over against this appalling picture of suffering and want, of heartless cruelty, of bribery and corruption, of a nation's crucifixion on the cross of military absolutism, stands cut in pure white light the resplendent altruism of the American people.

While all Europe has been drawn into the maelstrom of human blood, and terrible destruction has rendered her impotent to help this down-trodden nation, from across the seas, America has stretched forth the hand of charity and sympathy. President Wilson and the people of the great American Republic have won the undying gratitude of all classes in the land.

"Our task is plain, if we but have the necessary funds. There is food to be bought, but the price is high. And, besides this, the body must be clothed as well as fed; one with a weak, emaciated body, mostly skin and bones, looks forward to the winter with dread, for there is a poor chance to fight the continuous chill of winter with next to no vitality. How much more so if without clothing!

"The money you have helped to collect has saved many lives. Few would be living but for America's aid. General relief money has come to the nationaries safely, and separate amounts for individuals have also reached here. With keen satisfaction the treasurer reports that all these transactions have revealed universal confidence in the integrity and benevolent intentions of the Americans in handling this money for their Syrian friends."
